A T L A N T I C The Dutch Colonial Coins and Tokens of America (1645 to 1900)

Prologue

THIS WORK, long in arriving, has been the result of an urge by the author to accumulate, separate and definitively list the coins of the nations that first settled the West Indies and Caribbean area of the western hemisphere and to illustrate these regular issues of coins, tokens, emergency, necessity and siege pieces under the nationality and island governorships of these Dutch possessions in America.

JUNE, 1972

To what we trust may be accepted as an initial beginning for a standard work in this numismatic specialty, we are deeply appreciative to the most excellent researchers, authors and cataloguers who have preceded us. Their names and works appear in the accompanying bibliography.

It is not the intention of this reference to try to list each and every type, style or value of foreign coin used by the established colonists in their search for an equitable media of exchange. The search was extensive and necessary because no homeland coinage was supplied. The colonists employed whatever coins were readily available. Most used were products from Spanish American mints because of their proximity and enormous quantities during the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries.

No paper currencies are covered in this work as its acceptance and use by the colonists was, in all instances, short lived and always maligned. Hard money was the readily acceptable media because of the lack of sound backing for any paper currency attempt.

This reference is a complete listing of all coins and tokens, cut and counter-stamped necessity monies employed in the Dutch Colonies in the Americas from 1645 to the 20th Century. All photographs are of coins in the author's collection. The work has been divided into four sections: 1. Historical background. 2. History of the coinage. 3. Catalogue Listing-Numerically numbered. 4. The plate section of photos numbered to the catalogue.

The history of the Dutch in the West Indies was a stormy and stalwart example of their perserverance. In spite of overwhelming odds against the Spanish, British and French who also competed for colonization of this huge area of the Atlantic and Caribbean Seas, the Netherlands remained constant to their establishments in Curacao, Surinam (Dutch Guiana), St. Eustatius and St. Martin. Today, almost five centuries since the discovery of this hemisphere, she still maintains a rigid sovereignty over these prosperous lands.

Renaissance cartographers, remembering the legendary tales of a lost land of "Antilla," illustrated the isles of the Caribbees as "Antilles." The larger isles to the north and west were shown as the Greater Antilles and the smaller group as the Lesser Antilles. Spanish navigators, however, differentiated the groups in terms of prevailing winds—those eastward towards the European continent or African coastline and in the path of the tradewinds, they called the "Windwards." Those down-wards near the South American continent were called the "Leewards." In theory, the Caribbean Sea became a Spanish lake following its discovery by Columbus.

The Netherland Antilles and specifically Curacao were first sighted and discovered by Alonzo de Ojeda in 1499 and occupied by the Spanish in 1527. They have been in the possession of the Dutch since 1643 except for the periods 1798-1803 and 1808-1814, eras of British occupation. The Dutch Antilles consists of two groups of islands, both in the Caribbean Sea. The Dutch Windward group consists of Curacao, Aruba and Bonaire. The Leeward Islands are St. Maarten, St. Eustatius and Saba. Coinages exist for only three of all the Dutch island possessions—St. Martin, St. Eustatius and Curacao. The remaining possessions employed the coins of the adjacent Dutch colonies.

Starting in the northern Leeward grouping we find that St. Maarten (original spelling) first was settled by the Spaniards but was abandoned by them in 1648. It then was divided between the French in the northern section and the Dutch (Flushing) merchants to the south. Following the British occupation in 1815, the southern (Dutch) portion was officially returned to the Netherlands.

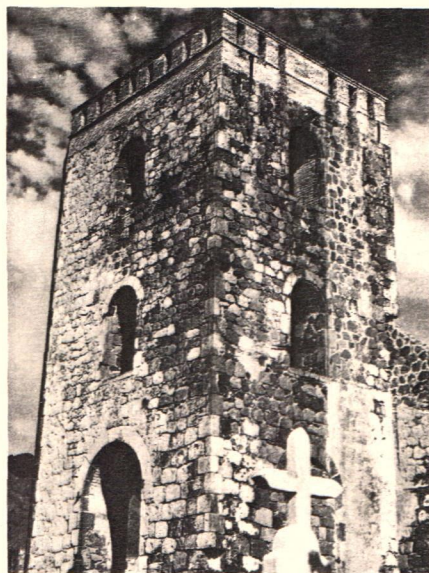

The French have shared ownership of St. Martin (French spelling) since 1648. Their northern portion of the island has a fine port, Marigot, similar to the Dutch port Philipsburg in the south, the latter being a free port like Oranjestad on sister island St. Eustatius.

Settlement for the division of St. Martin between the French and the Dutch came peaceably in 1648, with the Dutch obtaining, by ratification of the treaty, 14 square miles and the French, 20 square miles.

St. Eustatius was occupied by the Dutch merchants in 1635. Both the French and the British captured this island at various times during its early history. The British forcibly occupied it from 1810 to 1814, after which it was again returned to the original Dutch settlers. As the southern most isle of the three geographically closely related Dutch Islands, St. Eustatius lies in the northern windward grouping. It was a Netherlands freeport and during the 18th century became the crossroads for trade between Europe and America. It became known as the "Golden Rock." It was also known as the wealthiest island of its size in the world. It was here on November 16, 1776, that an American ship, "The Andrew Doria" sailed into the harbor of Oranjestad (Fort Orange), capital city, and received the first salute ever given by a foreign government to a flag flown by the Continental Navy of the United States. More than 8,000 persons once lived on "Statia," as it is currently labeled by the remaining 1,250 souls. As a result of the American Revolutionary War, the British, under Admiral Rodney, sacked the island and plundered its vast wealth for the English crown. It was recorded that Rodney carried away goods estimated at 3,000,000 pounds following the final capture of the island, Feb. 3, 1781.

Curacao, comprising an area of some 284 square miles of mainly flat lands, was first settled by the Spanish in 1527. It has been under Dutch control since 1634, except for British occupations of 1798 and from 1808 to 1815. The Spaniards were driven out of Curacao by the Dutch in 1634 and in 1787, the Dutch West India Company turned the island back to the Netherlands General. Its capital city is Willemstad, which controls the narrow harbor that has long been the haven for Spanish, French and English privateers. Curacao has had a very special history. When the navigation acts of England and France drove the Dutch to consider their Caribbean possessions as simply trading posts rather than a colonial empire, Curacao was so strategically situated that it became a smugglers' paradise, slave market and a rendezvous of international revolutionaries. The Dutch, meanwhile, did little except to maintain their own neutrality. Holland did not interfere with any of the belligerents of the colonial wars between Britain and the United States, France or Spain. The initial settlers were the expelled Jews from Portugal and the language today called "Papiamentu" is a jargon of Spanish, Dutch, Indian, African and Hebrew. The Jewish cemetery, which had its beginning in 1650, is the oldest Caucasian burial plot in the Americas.

The Guianas of the Americas, located on the northern and northeastern shores of South America, were Spanish in 1541; the Dutch Guianas in 1630; the English in 1650 and the French Guiana Colony in 1656. According to the writings of Governor Beaujou in 1798, Dutch Guiana—the settlements of Surinam, Berbice, and Essequibo and Demerara—“had little trade with any part of Europe except Holland for the importation of indispensable articles with which to exist. All accounts were kept in guilders and stivers.” In 1801 Governor Beaujou introduced, under British administration of the colony, the Spanish dollar. It was placed in circulation at 12 bits to the whole. In 1809, a series of one-quarter, one-half, one, two and three guilder pieces were issued by Britain for Dutch Guiana. The operation was repeated in 1816 and 1832, with an additional value of one-eighth guilder added in 1832. The 1816 and 1832 issues were used solely in the British Guiana colony. Berbice became a permanent part of British Guiana in 1831.

Surinam was recognized as a Dutch Colony by the Peace Treaty of Breda in 1667. In 1781, the whole of Dutch Guiana, including the province of Surinam, was transferred into British domain but was returned to the Dutch settlers in 1784. In 1796, Britain again occupied the colony. They returned it in 1802 to the Hollander born colonists, by the Treaty of Amiens. The British took possession for the third and last time in 1803. Permanent Dutch possession of Dutch Guiana was established partially in 1814 when almost all of its territory was returned by the British with a final settlement accomplished on Feb. 24, 1816, with the Dutch and British Guianas side by side at peace.

COINAGE EMPLOYED BY THE COLONISTS

THE EARLIEST complete series of coins struck for specific use of the colonists in the West Indies was accomplished by Denmark in 1740 for her possessions in the Danish West Indies. The initial introduction of a monies in the Dutch Colonies in the Americas were the copper “Doits” of Surinam (Dutch Guiana) in 1679. Both these issues however, were preceded by the Bermuda “hogge” monies of II, III, VI and XII pence “silvered” coppers (1612-1619).

The doits of 1679, called “little parrots,” were issued under the direction and sanction of Governor Johan Heinsius (1679-1680) and consisted of the three values, four, two and one stivers. They circulated in spite of a States General forbearance at the time of their issue but were later, under Governor Van Aerssen, brought back into accepted circulation. Again in 1764, copper doits, struck at Enkhuizen, were issued under the administration of Governor Wigbold Crommelin (1756-1768). This later, single-valued copper doit dated 1764, was struck by the Dutch mintmaster Pieter Buysken. It is described as having a cocoa (?) tree on the obverse. The inscription, “Societet/Van/Suriname,” graced the reverse of the piece. Both these early issues of copper doits (stivers) were considered a “necessity” coinage for small change for use by the colonists and merchants.

The first official and specific series of coins produced by the Netherlands for her West Indian possessions was effected on Dec. 31, 1793, by a resolution creating the values of three, one, and one-quarter guilders marked with the large letter “W.” They were struck at Utrecht with the date 1794 thereon. Only 1,226 of the crown-size three guilders were struck and are extremely scarce today.

By 1800, the Dutch currency value had increased up to 10 shillings, a result similar to that in the British possessions, which was imposed by the introduction of the Spanish “pistareen”. The rating of the dollar (daalder) was subsequently increased to 12 reals* in 1801 and was followed a few years later by an additional increase.

*Not to be confused with the Spanish “real” (25 Dutch cents). The “reaal” was valued at 15 Dutch cents.

United States: In 1827, due to public demand, many U.S. coins were declared current at a fixed rate. Earlier, U.S. coins passed on a similar value basis as the Spanish coins of equivalent intrinsic content.

*Only full weight Portugese johannes or half-joes were permitted to circulate as was the similar decree regarding the Spanish doblon (eight escudos) and four escudos (called pecas). When the term "joe" is used herein with regards to the gold issues, the coin being referred to is, in fact, a "half-johannes" or Portugese "peca."

It is important to bear in mind that values in the above table are approximate and median values. The exchange rates varied periodically due to the economy of the times and between nations and in conjunction with the fineness and weight of the pieces issued and subsequently circulating. In short, all gold and silver coins were accepted and circulated on the metallic merits of their intrinsic value in relationship to the monies current.

The Spanish gold pieces were supplanted by the Portugese gold coins half-dobra (johannes) weight and passed at seven and one-half Spanish dollars or 18 and three-quarters Dutch guilders. The half-joes were extensively counterfeited in America (Georgia) and in Birmingham, England, and shipped into the West Indies. The gold johannes, due to a rapid decline in the quality and/or from clipping during the British regime (1808-1815), were ordered to be submitted to the local treasuries for official stamping or countermarking after being assayed. In Curacao, this was done under the decree of Governor Lauffer (1799-1803).

Spanish gold and silver coins were the most prolific specie used in the entire West Indies chain of colonies. The Spanish piece-of-eight or peso passed at 48 stivers. The one-real piece was valued at six stivers to the Dutch shilling. The doubloon or onza was equal to 16 Spanish dollars or 40 guilders Dutch.

In the author's judgment, the specific attribution of marked gold coins, by past numismatic historians, to a given island or territory is basically without any evidence of official decrees to this effect. With very few exceptions did the edicts ever specify anything concerning the gold used as the official coinage of this or that colony. The stamping was effected simply to verify the gold content and weight according to the values accepted at the time. In some cases however, such as Jamaica, Guadeloupe and the Dutch colony of Essequibo and Demerara, the official stamp used was the letter(s) of that possession, ie, "ED" (Essequibo and Demerara); "G" (Guadeloupe) and "GR" (George Rex, the official stamp for Jamaican counterstamps).

"In Curacao, under Governor J.K. Lauffer's administration (1799-1803), Portugese gold coins were placed under regulations of the local council and only full weight coins were permitted to circulate. To distinguish these from the lightweight, debased and clipped coins that had infiltrated the island currency, these specimens were stamped five times on the border and a certificate was provided with each stamped and tested coin." * These stampings of initials were, like in other colonies, simply the initials of the registered assayers.

Perhaps the most enlightening statement concerning the use and so called attribution of gold coins used in the West Indies in general, is elicited from the works of Jean Mazard in his "Histoire Monetaire de Numismatique des Colonies et de L'Union Francaise" published in Paris, 1953. Mr. Mazard states that "All gold circulating was represented by the Spanish 'doublon' and the 'moede' of Portugal and its South American colonies and their derivatives, and all passed current with the sanction for their toleration by the Royal governments of Europe following their assaying by the local goldsmiths who certified their weight and fineness by the application thereto of a 'gold rivet' (plug) to bring the coin to its proper weight and in addition, the initials of the assayer. No intent was made by this procedure to assign the coins solely or specifically to the colony so stamping and plugging these gold pieces since most of the gold arriving at the colonies in general were used to pay for imported goods from the homeland or from various traders of many nationalities. It would be impossible to correctly assign each of these gold pieces now available (1953) to a specific location for there were actually as many varieties then circulating as the coins themselves, multiplied by the different stamps applied." (It may also be noted that in all instances, the homeland preferred to purchase gold on the open market in the Americas rather than send via the hazardous shipping routes the gold produced in their respective royal mints.

This realignment from Spanish to Portuguese gold in the colonies was a direct result of the reduction from 22 to 21 carats fineness and weight of the gold issuing from the Spanish mints in 1786. As a direct result, full weight gold coins quickly disappeared from circulation.

Base silver coins from Denmark and the Danish West Indies, together with worn stivers, Spanish one and two reals, French sou-marques (billion, crowned "C" noirs), French Cayenne two sous were the most abundantly circulating minor coins in all the Indies, including the Dutch colonies in America. The latter noirs and two sous pieces were extensively counterfeited resulting in the local proclamations demanding their countermarking in each such island making use of these unwanted pieces. In later days even the countermarks on these silver and copper coins were counterfeited and the coins forged. Extreme caution is the word to the collector of this most interesting series of necessity money of the West Indies.

Cut money also played an important role in the currency of the Dutch colonial empire. Most of these pieces were from Spanish silver, notably the eight reales bust type (1773-1820). The greatest influx of this cut money occurred in the Dutch colonies between 1790 and 1808.

In 1806 a card (paper) money in series of one to eight reals was introduced in the amount of 3,000 pesos in Curacao under the administration of Governor P.J. Changuion but was recalled due to counterfeiting in 1814.

Cut and counterstamped money appeared in the Dutch colonies as well as in the British, French, and Spanish provinces in the West Indies due to the dire necessity of small change which would relate to the fractional portions of the dollar. There were one-eighth, one-tenth, one-eleventh and one-twelfth dollar (daalder) values. The practice of supplying this form of species became a reality during the latter part of the 18th century (1798) and early part of the 19th century (1800-1825). By 1838, the British, Spanish, Dutch and French all ceased by official decrees the use of such monies. The Saints Islands (British) in the northern Leewards group continued to accept and circulate cut money up to 1889. The Danish possessions (U.S. Virgin Islands), although never recognizing the use of cut coins since they had supplied a full series of values since 1740 for their colonists, counterstamped coins between 1849 and 1859, also due to a dearth of small change. They desisted from the use of any marked or cut coins in 1859. The official decree for stopping the use of any marked or cut silver in the French possessions came in 1848.

The currency standard of Curacao and the Dutch possessions, except in Essequibo-Demerara and Surinam, was until 1827 the Spanish "peso" which was valued at eight reales and 48 stivers in Dutch currency with six stivers to the real. By royal decree of May 10, 1826, the Netherlands monetary system was introduced on Curacao but met with failure. It was not until the Coinage Act of May 23, 1899 that a special subdivisionary coinage for the Netherlands Antilles was introduced. This coinage continued as legal tender, even to the present day. No foreign coins, then abounding in circulation in the Dutch possessions of Curacao and Surinam, were to be redeemable following this edict of 1899, after their exchange according to the established values of each such foreign coin submitted to the local treasuries.

By 1800, the Dutch currency value of exchange had increased to 10 shilling (English). The cut silver money, issued under the Governor (1799-1803), and locally known as "guillotinos," were, initially, the whole Spanish eight reales cut in four quarters and stamped with a "roseace" mark of five petals and each quarter cut bore two crenallated edges. Each cut quarter passed at three reales. During the British administration of the Dutch Colony of Curacao, under Governor John Hodgson, on Aug. 30, 1814, the then available 8,000 Spanish eight reales were authorized to be cut into five equal parts and these too were to pass current here at a full three reales or 18 stivers each. The quarter-sized portions, which had also been valued at three reales each and issued previously, were, by act of Aug. 21, 1814, stamped with an additional mark of the figure "21" in an indent, thus raising their value to 21 stivers (three and a half reales). These latter pieces are especially scarce today.

It is most interesting to note here that in all instances the Dutch countermarking of cut coins occurred on the pillar or mint mark (reverse) side.

On March 4, 1816, Curacao was returned to the Dutch mandate under Governor A. Kikkert and by the edict of July 13, 1818, cut money consisting of one-third and one-fifth segments were authorized to pass as stamped with figures "5" and "3" at five reals (30 stivers) and three reals (18 stivers) respectively. Both pieces were to bear the crenated two edges while the figures "5" and "3" were to be enclosed in a plain circle indented onto the piece itself. Associated with the latter piece of three reals was an additional issue of the same value having the stamp "3" in a serrated indent. In 1825 and thereafter, since the value of the total cut segments necessary to make a full dollar (daalder) was 15 reals and since the un mutilated dollar passed as 14 reals, the practice of the merchants and privateers in surreptitiously cutting whole coins became prevalent to a dangerous degree for the economy. These "short changed" cuts (mostly in one-sixth size) had continued to circulate due to convenience. They were found to have been imported from the Danish possessions (St. Thomas). All were lightweight and bore the familiar counterstamp "3." The inadequacy and lack of any firm local control saw these lightweight one-sixth cut pieces continue to circulate freely with the recipients thereof (merchants and storekeepers) being the sole control over their purchasing value.

The year 1821 saw the end of the use of the Spanish value of "real" (15 cents-Dutch) to the "reaal" (Dutch) basis of denomination which passed at 12 cents per reaal. Concurrently, on Sept. 18, 1821, reaals dated 1821 and valued at six stivers in Curacao were put into circulation as colonial coins on Curacao, Bonaire and Aruba. In 1822, the appearance of silver stivers at the rate of 48 stivers to the peso, were effected by an act of August 13. Simultaneously, all use of the old stivers (Noirs and Cayenne two sous) was banned and these inferior coins were demonetized. Both the above reaals and stivers were produced in both the United States and at the Utrecht mint in the Netherlands.

A literal translation of the proclamation of the Governor General A. Kikkert, dated July 18, 1818, regarding the five and three real or one-third and one-fifth cut pieces follows:

1. "At one time, or from time to time as shall be judged necessary by the Governor General (A. Kikkert) to have cut a quantity of whole silver coins into fractions of three and five pieces, and to authorize the circulation thereof in the islands under his jurisdiction.

2. "The value of these cut pieces to be fixed at one-third of a patin (peso) each five reaals or 30 stivers, and the pieces of one-fifth cut at three reaals or 18 stivers each.

3. "That the pieces of five reaals or 30 stivers shall be stamped with the figure "5" and that of the three reaals or 18 stivers with the figure "3" and from this day on in this and dependent islands, all persons shall receive and accept them at the same respective values." (Passed at meeting held in Government House in Fort Amsterdam on the island of Curacao, July 18, 1818, the fifth in his majesty's reign. Published on March 29, 1819, at Willemstad.)

(Note: Curacao's capital city, Willemstad, officially had been declared the capitol city of all the Netherlands possessions in the West Indies.)

The Royal Decree of May 10, 1826 abolished the use of cut money and established a fixed value for all coins circulating at that time. This decree, passed at the Hague, Amsterdam, Holland, listed these exchange rates in Dutch values as follows:

1. The Gulden is equal to 100 cents (Dutch)

2. One-fifth of the Spanish Dollar, 50 cents

3. Curacao Stuiver, two and one-half cents

The edict also cancels the use of the following coins from Jan. 1, 1827:

1. The reaals or schillings of 1821

2. The reaals or old Danish shillings

3. The third part of the Spanish dollar and the pieces of three and one-half reaals (C/s-"21" pieces)

By this edict the values of foreign coins was also fixed:

1. The Spanish dollar, two and one-half gulden (guilders)

2. Gold and silver coins in the same proportion

3. Old Portugese gold johannes at two and one-fourth guilders per English Troy ounce.

All accounts to be kept in gulden (guilders), the peso of eight to be converted to guilders at the rate of one to one and one-third.

An interesting sidelight on the origin of the 1821 reals and 1822 stivers is given in the 1940 Numismatist by Mr. John Van der Meer of Curacao. He states that neither the Dutch records of the Netherlands Royal Dutch Mint in Amsterdam nor those at Willemstad, capital of Curacao, record any information or acknowledgment of the minter or location of minting of either the 1821 reals or the 1822 stivers. But that, during the administration of Governor Cantz'laar, these coins were struck on the order of a Mr. Joseph Foulke, owner of a large shipyard on Curacao and that the order was placed for these reals and stivers in the United States.

Since the United States did not officially produce coinage for any foreign country until the act of Jan. 29, 1874, the writer would presume that these were produced at one of the private mints in the United States. Two such mints existed during this period. The Waterbury Works in Waterbury, Connecticut, was founded in 1802 and became known as the Scovill Manufacturing Company in 1827. The Providence Mint, located at Providence, Rhode Island, was organized by Jabez Gorham in 1818. Both mints would have been unlikely sites for the minting of these questionable coins.

Mr. Jacques Schulman of Amsterdam, of international repute as an author, historian and numismatist, refutes the above proposition and is quoted in rebuttal when he writes "...that, these coins were minted in a small temporary mint at Willenstad, Curacao, and that, the 'Caduceus' employed in the design on the reals, being properly the mint mark of Utrecht, Netherlands, and suggest the emblem of trade in the Dutch Colonial possessions."

In the reference work authored by C. Scholten and published by Jacques Schulman in 1853, mintage figures are listed for the 1822 stivers for both Utrecht (360,000) and the United States (?) as 169,007.

Both the 1821 reals and the 1822 stivers were recalled by the Dutch government on Jan. 1, 1827, but the stivers dated 1822 persisted to circulate and a renewal of their use became effected by an order for additional specimens on Dec. 11, 1840, which would then be valued at 40 to the guilder and continue to bear the date 1822. Varieties by weight and design have been noted in the catalogue section.

By public order of June 8, 1838, under the governorship of Birn Van Raders, Dutch guilders (6,000) were cut into quarter segments, stamped with the letter "C" in circular indent, and like their predecessors of cut money, bore two crenallated edges. These pieces passed at 0.25 florins each, under the currency act of 1826. These were the last type of cut coins produced under any official auspices for the Dutch colonies in the West Indies although they continued to circulate to near the end of the 19th century, due to the ever present need for small change.

A token coinage produced for the private establishments (coaling companies) of Leyba and Co., Jesurun and Co., J. J. Naar Co., and the Curacao Trading Company of both base silver-nickel and lead made their appearance in Curacao in the 1880's. Illustrations of all are shown in the plates. All of these were rated as stivers. Later these tokens were stamped with a letter "C" and used by S.E.L. Maduro and Sons at their shipyards and docks as counters or tallies of the workers for loading and unloading the baskets on merchant ships. White metal tokens were issued by the C.T.C.

In the Scholten reference under his No. 1411, but not illustrated therein, is a rather distinct token described, "Without value. An Indian canoe. Rev. RDI/C°, copper token. Uncertain." The inference given for the attribution of this token to the Dutch colonies is taken from the letters thereon, "RDI/C<sup>o</sup>," as meaning "Royal Dutch Indies Co." This particular token was not included in the works of F.X. Paquet, Eugene G. Courteau, M.D., P.N. Breton, Joseph Leroux, M.D., nor the Charlton catalogues of the Canadian series but in 1962 this appeared as No. 4048 in the CNPI (Canadian Numismatic Publishing Institute) catalogue. Two sizes of this token were indicated in the accompanying illustrations indicating two distinct dies were employed in their production. This token has long been accepted as belonging to the Canadian token series but without any factual basis for such attribution.

Mr. H.A. Parsons, renowned British collector and numismatist, using logic and existing records wrote in the British Numismatic Journal, Series 3, Vol.II, on page 266, that "An unusual Canadian token, apparently unique, which appeared in the Caldecott Sale, June 1912, as Lot No. 395, should have a place here (Canada). It was struck on a flan which was Sheffield plated and bears on the obverse a Canadian Canoe, beached on the edge of a lake of rippling water. On the reverse appears the letters RDI, with C<sup>o</sup>. underneath, evidently the initials of the issuer. The illustration(s) in the catalogue (Caldecott) (as well as both sizes herein illustrated) shows it to have been of cent size and in my collection, and here illustrated (Pl.II.6) is a similar piece, unpublished, but only half the size. Nothing appears so far to be known of these pieces, but they have rather an archaic appearance which suggest an issue at the beginning of the 18th century or even earlier."

In the accompanying footnote to above, Mr. Parsons advises that a Professor A.S. Morton, of Saskatoon has suggested that the letters on the reverse may signify the "Robert Dickson Indian Company". A Colonel Robert Dickson was a fur trader with headquarters at Niagara and Michilimackinac. Brigadier General E.A. Cruikshank, of Ottawa, informed Mr. Parsons that Dickson traded with the Indians in the vicinity of Wisconsin and Missouri Rivers from about 1790 until 1812, and 1812 to 1815 he was engaged in the British military service as superintendent of the Western Indians. He died about 1823.

Although there is no written evidence to connect these tokens with Colonel Robert Dickson, the type of the obverse, and Indian canoe on rippling waters, and the initials on the reverse (RDI C<sup>o</sup>.) form strong presumptive evidence that these tokens were issued by him for trading purposes and that the period of their use was, in fact, between 1790 and 1812.

A standard and regular issue of coinage for the Dutch colonies became a reality with the production in 1900 of the tenth and quarter guilder pieces of Queen Wilhelmina. During the World War II occupation (period 1940-1942) however, and the interim period (1915-1940), the regular issues of the homeland were used in the Dutch possessions in America. In 1942, by a Royal Decree of July 29, a new type of coinage for the colonies was ordered struck in the United States. The word "Kolonie" on the coins was eliminated and a mint mark Palm Tree and letter "D" (Denver) or "P" (Philadelphia) were employed in the reverse design. These issues consisted of one cent, two and one-half cents, one-tenth guilder, one-fourth guilder, one guilder and two and one-half guilders. They bear the dates 1942, 1943, and 1945, although not all values were produced each year. They circulated freely in Curacao and Surinam. Beginning in 1947, the homeland has produced all coins for their island dominions.

Turning now to the northern island colonies of the Dutch, we find that St. Maarten also employed the cutting and counterstamping of "pieces of eight" for use as a monetary medium of exchange. The Dutch consider St. Maarten in the Leeward grouping, and that is currently accepted. However, the early Spanish and French cartographers placed it in the Windward group. The earliest reference to a monies used here following the division of the island between the Dutch and the French residents (1648) was a "card" money in value of 48 stivers (eight reales) and issued in the total amount of 250 rixdollars. It was a short lived currency for in 1779 it had already been recalled.

Like all other West Indian possessions of European powers, the Spanish eight reales and its equivalent in smaller cob pieces were the accepted medium of exchange for the inhabitants in addition to the gold of Portugal, France, England and Spain. It remained so down to the end of the 18th century. The Spanish eight reales or peso was called by the Dutch "patienje" or "patinho." Ready money, especially full silver and gold pieces, were always in short demand as they were used for all overseas payments. The florin which sometimes reached these parts was equal to the guilder in Dutch exchange rates. The full weight eight-reales (Spanish) or Portugese peso passed at two and one-half guilders.

Passing current at one stiver were the French sou-marque, originally the double sol of 24 deniers (struck between 1738 and 1770) and the noir or sou-marque (black dog) of impure copper (billion) and marked with a crowned letter "C." They were followed by the French Caenne, two sous (1780-1789), which circulated in most all the West Indies in great quantities including the Dutch islands of St. Maarten, St. Eustatius and Curacao, until demonetized due to the prevalence of large quantities of forgeries. It also passed current at one stiver.

When the influx of counterfeit coppers became overwhelming, the good ones remaining were stamped by the act of Dec. 29, 1797 with a design incused on the piece consisting of a sheaf of seven arrows. A goldsmith, DaAsensam was placed in charge of the inspection and stamping, after which the unstamped two-sous pieces circulating would no longer be accepted. This "sheaf of arrows" stamp was subsequently forged and was replaced on Jan. 1, 1798 with a die punch stamp with the letters S'M. These too were counterfeited and eventually, on July 5, 1820, these pieces were called in to be additionally countermarked with an incuse letter "M." The S'M stamp occurred in both a square indent and a beaded circle and a few have been noted with only the letters SM. In the French portion of the island, the stivers so marked in 1820 bore a very large and coarse appearing "fleur-de-lis" in addition to the incuse letter "M" as dictated by the edict of the Dutch council.

Whatever might have been the circulation of other coins in the Dutch possessions, all the Leeward islands were left in 1798 with but lightweight johannes and a minute quantity of worn and obsolete silver coins in addition to the ever present copper (French) stivers. The result was a change in the value placed upon the eight-reales or its equivalent from eight shilling, three pence to a full nine shillings or 12 bits and the doubloon (in place of the johanne) was placed at 16 dollars. The "joes" circulating in St. Maarten were ordered brought to the assigned local assayer and stamped with the numerals "22." (The implication of this figure for carats, livres (French standard) or guilders (Dutch) is not clear in any known references. It is the opinion of the author that any and all of these markings were only made to insure the user of its proper weight and fineness so no positive assignment to any locale is intended).

The Dutch authorities on St. Maarten did, however, cut and stamp the Spanish milled dollars available (again to make small change). The public decree of April 2, 1817 indicated that these cut and stamped pieces of coin were current on the island. The eight reales were cut into quarters and stamped with the usual bundle of arrows marking (seven) and above which was stamped into the piece the letters "cc." On both of the cut edges of this quarter cut, the numerals "18" were incused to indicate a value of 18 stivers. Similar pieces with only the bundle of seven arrows have also been noted. Fifth cuts of the eight reales also circulated with the stamp "St.

Martin" added to the already present bundle of arrows marking. Clipped and counterfeit lightweight specimens also were imported here and still available, being foisted on the unknowing collector as genuine pieces.

It is of note that the letter "P" countermarked on both silver and copper coins and appearing in a beaded circle (most commonly on Cayenne two sous copper pieces) had originally been assigned by numismatic references to Philipsburg, capital of the Dutch portion of St. Martin, but later research by Mr. Schulman of Amsterdam assigns this mark to St. Eustatius and as the initial of Pierre dit Flamand, local gold and silversmith, who is mentioned in the local (St. Eustatius) proclamation of Dec. 15, 1797. However, these double marked copper pieces did circulate on both islands.

By Draft Proclamations of 1853 and March 9, 1854*, the British declared the acceptance of United States gold coins of the value of eagles ($10.00) and double eagles ($20.00) to pass current in their island possessions at the following rates:

|               |                    |
|---------------|--------------------|
| Double Eagle  | 82 shillings       |
| Eagle         | 41 shillings       |
| Half-Eagle    | 21 shill., 6 pence |
| Quarter-Eagle | 10 shill., 3 pence |
| Gold Dollar   | 4 shill., 1 pence  |

The remaining islands in the West Indies under all other European dominion quickly followed the above act and made the U.S. coins official at the current rate for their monies.

The remaining Dutch possession in the Greater Antilles chain, St. Eustatius, comprising but six square miles of land in the Caribbean Sea, also used emergency type countermarked money. The first form of identifying the two sous (French coppers) to this island was accomplished by punching in the letters "S E" in either an indented circle or simply plain punch of these initials for St. Eustatius. As a result of its increasing trade with the colonies in America, St. Eustatius enjoyed much prosperity up to the time of its pillage and capture by Admiral Rodney. The aforementioned Cayenne two sous coppers were stamped according to an edict of Dec. 15, 1797. According to Scholten, "a silversmith named Pierre dit Flamand was 'sworn' to make this stamp (S E)."

As elsewhere in the West Indies, false copper stivers and countermarks made their appearance and on Dec. 7, 1809, all copper stivers, good and bad, were ordered stamped with an additional letter "P." Past historians had mistakenly attributed this latter stamp (P) to Philipsburg, St. Martin. The act of 1809, as stated here, specifically spelled out the use of this additional stamp "P" along side of the original stamping of "S E."

Gold johannes were used to purchase the copper stivers in 1810 and 1812, for this stamping. An order by the Governor, Sept. 27, 1810, decreed that all worn and countermarked silver coins then circulating be similarly marked with this latter stamp of the letter "P". This included all countermarked coins of any other island colony on which the original counterstamp was not legible as well as the silver coins stamped with the "S E." No evidence of any specific cut money used in this Dutch island had been recorded. The lone other local monies were two brass tokens, produced by Herman Gossling, a merchant in St. Eustatius. These pieces were valued at "one bitt" and "one-half bitt."

Note: This value would compare to the British value of six of the circulating sous marques (equal to one and one-half pence) or nine pence. The half bitt was accordingly valued at four and one-half pence and this monetary standard was evidently also accepted by the Dutch here. Description of these two pieces is given in the catalogue section.

Moving to the South American continent possessions of the Dutch, we will consider the coinage used in the Dutch Guianas—Berbice, a province of Surinam settled by Zeelanders about 1630; Surinam; and Dutch Guiana (Essequibo and Demerara).

The lone example that has been attributed with some degree of authenticity to Berbice are the gold johannes, half joes or Portugese pecas that bear the letter "B" stamped on the head of the bust side (obverse) of the coin. This province, being privately owned, was sold by the original Zeeland settlers to merchants from Amsterdam in 1714. Following several exchanges of Dutch Guiana between the British and the Netherlands by forced occupation of the British, this province was later incorporated in the territory of Surinam.

In 1682, the colony of Surinam became the property of the Dutch West India Company and later by sale came under the control of C. Van Aerssen. Finally, in 1816, the English returned most of the territory of Surinam to the Dutch under local control of Willem B. Van Panhuys. A continual shortage of circulating coin existed here until about 1828. Prior to a "card money" issue in 1761, sugar at two stivers per "pund" (pound) was used as a currency exchange in 1669, and at one stiver per pound in 1679. Similar to most areas, the Spanish coins were readily accepted here along with the already reported doits of 1679 and 1764, which were the initial coins produced for the Dutch colonies in America. No official cut money was initiated for Surinam. An unofficial "estate" token assigned to Surinam, struck in tin, and inscribed "Jetton Hollandais" around the figure of a Negro head, with the reverse bearing three "fleur-de-lis" supported by greyhounds, is of questionable attribution here. An additional brass token inscribed "H. de la Fuente-Wagen-Vracht" with blank reverse as catalogued by Weyl in Berlin, 1879, as No. 2362, is also questionable for assignment to Surinam.

In Essequibo and Demerara (sometimes spelled Demerary), the gold coins of Portugal and Brazil were the official standard and in many ways the sole medium of exchange between this colony and the rest of the world. A specific weight standard (seven engels) (10.766 grams) equivalent to 22 Dutch guilders was set up by a document of Oct. 29, 1798, which also provided for other weight gold coins in proportion. All other full weight gold coins were also decreed to be stamped by the edict of Aug. 2, 1799, with the letters "ED" in square indent for Essequibo and in an oval indent for Demerara. The British, who eventually gained control of this area by the Treaty of London in 1814, had, in fact, caused coins to be struck in 1809 bearing the image of George III on the obverse and the inscription "Essequibo and Demerary" on the reverse. This type issue was repeated in 1816 and again in 1832 (George IV). The examples of cut and counterstamped coins used and produced under British administration, presumably between 1798 and 1803, for this colony were Spanish bust type (pillar style reverse) silver dollars with a serrated hole punched out of the center portion and marked with a counterstamp on the head reading, "E. & D./3 G<sup>L</sup>," within a beaded indented circle. The serrated center portion also was employed and stamped with E.&D./3B<sup>ts</sup>. No other type of cut coins are assigned for this Dutch dominion.

It is important to note that these "pieces" (the holed Spanish dollar and the resulting center portion) were produced during the British administration of Dutch Guiana. The edict for their introduction here was brought about by the petition of the acting governor to the Court of Policy which, in turn, validated the cutting and stamping by a decree passed Dec. 9, 1809.* They are included here in the Dutch coinage "employed" in their colonies because they indeed circulated and were accepted by both the Dutch and British inhabitants.

A previous action by the Court of Policy on Nov. 17, 1808, withdrew all mutilated gold coins in circulation in Guiana.

The "ring" dollar thus produced passed at six shilling, three pence (12 bits), while the "plug" was valued at three bits or 15 pence. The related Dutch value was three guilders for the gold holed dollar and 15 (Dutch) pence for the cut center. A single type punch has been noted for the counterstamp on the ring portion while two varieties of punches were evidently used in stamping the plug.

The Dutch colony of Pernambuco in Brazil, under the direction of the Dutch West India Company had struck emergency (siege) coins in gold and silver in 1645, 1646 and 1654. All these pieces (originals) are extremely rare today. A set of the gold coins was recently offered on the market for $35,000 to a prominent West Indian collector. The gold pieces (square shaped) were issued in values of 12, six and three guilders bearing the monogram, "G.W.C." (The mark of the "Great" West India Company). The reverses carried the legend "Anno/Brazil" (within a diamond) and date. A beaded circle surrounded both obverse and reverse inscriptions. Slight die varieties exist on some of the various denominations. The silver pieces of 1654 were minted in values of 40, 30, 20, 12 and 10 stivers. These were also on a square planchet with the monogram GWC and value above. The reverse of all silver pieces were blank. (Illustrations of these are in the plate section).

A more recent account (1967)* of the above pieces gives the current day numismatist a much clearer picture of these rather obsequious and unique emergency pieces. Mr. Robert Schulman, associate of the Jacques Schulman firm in Amsterdam refutes the existence of the 30 guilder gold piece and states that this was undoubtedly in error by the earlier cataloguer, Maillet. He also states that it would have been quite illogical for a 12 stiver silver piece to be issued as military payment or, for that matter, for any other reason. The same would apply to the 30 stiver silver coin which, Mr. Schulman relates, was, in his opinion, never struck. The information taken for these listings in C. Scholten's work was from the earlier Julius Meili works on Brazilian coinage. Mr. Scholten applies the same logic to his examinations of pieces bearing values of 40 and 10 stivers which have appeared on the market and which he states are evidently false and were produced from the same source at a much later date.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

Eighty dollars in Spanish coin were yesterday found, off the mouth of Morris Creek, by the Dixon brothers—well-known oystermen. Alexander Dixon, while raking for oysters, found something more valuable—his labors being rewarded with no less than sixty-two silver dollars; Harvey found thirteen pieces, and William five dollars. Some of the coins have a dragon on one side, and the old Spanish coat of arms, on the other. Whether this money was buried in the westerly bank of the Sound by Captain Kidd, or some Spanish vessel has been lost there, we cannot tell. At all events, the fishermen—one hundred in number—are raking the oyster-beds this morning and many of them have found additional treasure.

Mr. E.J. Cleveland, numismatologist, gives us the following explanation of the discovery: The coins are mostly silver dollars which were coined into money at the silver mines of Peru. They are known as "Cob" dollars, and bear the stamp of the Spanish government. They are very irregular, because no "collar" was used in coining. Date about 1685 to 1692. These coins were used by the Colonists as a circulating medium. — Daily Monitor, Elizabeth, N.J., May 22, 1872.

In April I attended the 14th Texas Numismatic Association Convention held in Dallas, where I had the privilege of participating in the educational forum as a speaker. The educational forum, like all the convention activities, was well attended. TNA president Lyman Bartee and all the Dallas Coin Club members who helped stage the convention are to be congratulated. The exhibits were outstanding, the bourse lively, and the general atmosphere of enthusiasm was matched by the hospitable spirit of the TNA and the host club. In the state of Texas there are more than 1,400 ANA individual members, more than 50 ANA member clubs, and numismatics continues to grow in popularity.

On June 15 the American Numismatic Association's Certification Service will begin operations in Washington, D.C. ANACS will examine coins for authenticity and will accept coins from anyone anywhere in the world. All information on this new service being provided by ANA appears on page 881 of this issue. Be sure to read this page before sending coins.

Also during April I attended the Central States Numismatic Society's 33rd Anniversary Convention, the oldest and one of the largest regional conventions. Collectors and dealers from all over the U.S. and Canada attended this enjoyable show in Milwaukee, Wis. All Central States Numismatic Society officers, headed by president George Hatie, and the Milwaukee Numismatic Society members cooperated to host this successful numismatic event, with its interesting exhibits, bourse, auction and educational program.

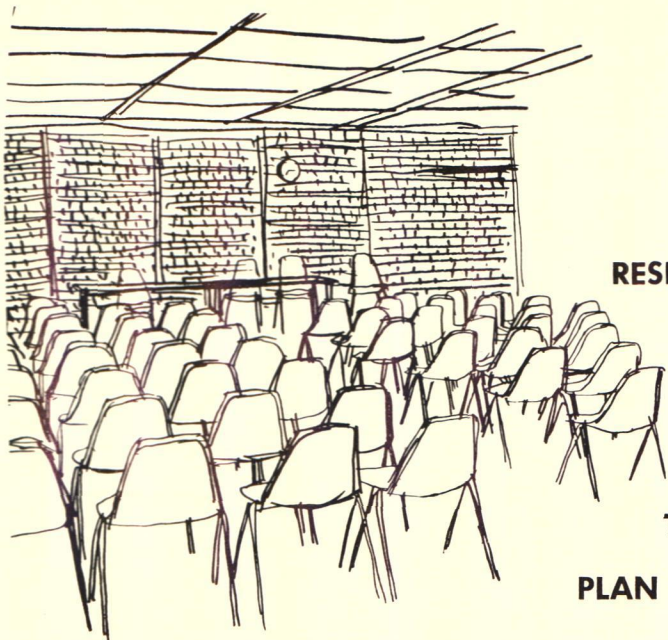

I also journeyed to Canada to represent the ANA at the largest Canadian provincial numismatic event, the 10th convention of the Ontario Numismatic Association, which was held in Niagara Falls, Ont. I was warmly welcomed as president of the ANA and as the immediate past president of the Canadian Numismatic Association. Visiting with many CNA-ANA members, I found that numismatics is moving forward rapidly in Canada.

The California State Numismatic Association celebrated its 25th anniversary in April with a well attended convention in San Francisco, hosted by the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, which was founded in 1915 and is the oldest coin club west of the Mississippi. This strong state organization is to be congratulated on successfully reaching its 25th milestone and best wishes are extended for another 25 years of growth.

Many letters from members have been received relative to the discussion in my April message of the problem of overgraded numismatic material, including slightly circulated coins which have been cleaned and processed and then offered as uncirculated. Most of these letters indicate that our members want the ANA to take strong action to have this misrepresentation eliminated. All the elected and appointed officers of the ANA are willing and eager to follow up the wishes of the membership. Let us hear from you.

Specific Gravity of United States Gold Coins

by Robert F. Kriz, ANA LM 587

(All rights reserved)

Since counterfeits are the plague of the coin collector, there has been much written in the various numismatic media on the subject. The American Numismatic Association has conducted several annual symposia on counterfeits and how to detect them, and the American Numismatic Association Certification Service, ANACS, will soon commence operations. As an aid in assuring that the coins which went into his several fields of collection were in fact authentic, the author early became interested in the subject of specific gravity. The United States Mint and the mint's Assay Laboratory do not use specific gravity either in their normal operations or in counterfeit determination. This information came from discussions by the author with mint personnel in 1971. The author's experience, however, in the field of specific gravity measurements as related to coin collecting indicates there is much of value for the collector.

This article will discuss specific gravity as one, and only one, useful indicator, available in home or office, to many collectors in reaching a decision to acquire or not acquire a coin or coins. Some other indicators have been discussed by that well-respected numismatist, Virgil Hancock.<sup>1</sup> The techniques of X-ray diffraction, neutron activation, electron beam probe, and other approaches which involve expensive equipment not readily available to the average collector will not be discussed in this article.

A specific gravity measurement alone should not cause one to acquire or reject a coin, but if the specific gravity of a coin departs rather markedly from the established 'normal' for the 'time-series,' then the collector very advisedly had better check (or have checked) the coin carefully under a 30x stereo microscope, as well as checking the diameter, thickness, reeding, and other characteristics known to pertain to valid coins of the series. But just because a coin meets the accepted 'normal' specific gravity, the collector should not forego the microscope examination of the coin and the determination of its physical characteristics. Notice particularly the use of 'normal' and 'time-series.' Because the manufacture of coins is a highly repetitive process and of great count, it is impossible to impose the quality control standards quite common, for instance, in the aerospace industry, and in our own hobby those used in the manufacture of proof coins and medals. By law, therefore, The Mint has pluses and minuses, or manufacturing tolerances for both weight and metal content within which it is required to produce our coinage. Since the mint is charged with the bullion or other metal received, it must have produced finished coins and/or have coins in the manufacturing process equal to the metal received, or else some one or more Mint officers are in deep trouble, and may even be "disqualified from holding their respective offices."<sup>2</sup>

Because of inevitable manufacturing losses, mints everywhere have always tried to operate on the low side of the tolerances allowed, both for fineness of metal and weight of metal in individual coins. To assure the President of the United States and the body politic that the coinage of the United States meets the statutory requirements and is within the tolerances allowed by law, the Annual Assay Commission meets on the second Wednesday of every February at the Philadelphia Mint. The law governing this matter goes back to the Act of April 2, 1792, and is now covered by U.S. Code 32 363.

Now let us look at the use of the term 'time-series.' From time to time the weight and metal content of our coinage has changed in accordance with the law, so that as of the present time we have no precious metals in our coinage, except for the 40 per cent silver proof and uncirculated Eisenhower dollars. Further, our minting facilities, being fixed manufacturing establishments and subject to an involved process of government budgeting and funding, can easily be and sometimes are behind the state of the art so far as the manufacturing processes from raw metal to finished coins are concerned. Additionally, the science of metallurgy has not stood still, so as the years go by it can be expected the mint's products should approach more closely the statutory requirements for our coinage. Finally, coins are made by people, albeit with the aid of a great deal of machinery, and people and machinery are never 100 per cent perfect over long periods of time. Thus it is important to consider where a coin in question falls within our coinage history.

Is specific gravity determination a complex and expensive process? The answer is "no," and such determination is within the capability of the collector in his own home or office. The equipment needed to determine specific gravity is not at all complicated. A balance sensitive to  $\pm .005$  grams is a must. This involves an expenditure of less than \$100, which will include some very accurate test weights. This cost may be returned many-fold if it assists the collector in determining that a valuable coin is not really what it appears to be. Why test weights? They are needed to make sure the results produced by the balance are, and remain, accurate within some tolerance of accuracy for both balance and weights. A simple glass beaker, a very thin and very light suspension device, and some distilled water are the only other requirements. With this equipment one is ready to determine specific gravity.

As stated in the Mechanical Engineers Handbook, "The specific gravity of a solid or liquid is the ratio of the mass of the body to the mass of an equal volume of water..."<sup>3</sup> For our purposes we can use the equation:

$$\text{Sp. Gr.} = \frac{\text{Weight in Air}}{\frac{\text{Weight in Air} - \text{Weight in Water}}{\text{Weight in Water}}}$$

Because the suspension device has some weight in air and in water, its weight must be subtracted to obtain the weight of the coin alone. Where the suspension device is used only in determining the weight in water, the weight of the suspension device itself alone in water must be subtracted from the total weight in water of the coin and suspension device to determine the weight in water of the coin alone. The equation in this case is:

$$\text{Sp. Gr.} = \frac{\text{Weight in Air}}{\frac{\text{Weight in Air} - (\text{Weight in Water} - \text{Weight in Water of Suspension Device Alone})}{\text{Weight in Water of Suspension Device Alone}}}$$

To determine specific gravities of combinations of metals, or alloys, we must start with the specific gravities of the pure metals. The specific gravities of gold (AU), silver (AG) and copper (CU) are 19.32, 10.49, and 8.96 respectively.<sup>4</sup> To determine the specific gravity of a later date U.S. gold coin, 90 per cent and 10 per cent copper, the following equation is used:

$$\begin{aligned} \text{Sp. Gr.} &= \frac{\text{Weight}}{\text{Volume}} \\ \text{or} \\ \text{Volume} &= \frac{\text{Weight}}{\text{Sp. Gr.}} \end{aligned}$$

Solving this equation gives us:

$$V \text{ of AU} = \frac{90 (\%)}{19.32} = 4.65838$$

$$V \text{ of CU} = \frac{10 (\%)}{8.96} = 1.11607$$

$$\text{Total V} = \frac{100 (\%)}{\text{Sp. Gr.}} = 5.77445$$

$$\text{Sp. Gr.} = 17.317$$

For the collector's ease of calculation, the following table is presented, giving AU/CU alloys from 99%/1% down to 80%/20%. By the process on interpolation, the collector may save himself a lot of long division or slide rule manipulation. If the collector wants to go one step further, this data may be plotted on a sheet of graph paper ruled 10 x 10 to the centimeter. He will, however need a very shallow French curve to connect the plotted points. This curve, as generated, eliminates the need for interpolation from the table, for fineness from known specific gravity, or specific gravity from known fineness can be read directly.

How far should one go, decimal-wise, in specific gravity determination? It would appear that rounding off the first decimal in our specific gravity determination is about as far as we can go usefully in our home and office pursuits in this endeavor. In light of the Mint gold tolerance of 1/1000 in 900/1000,<sup>6</sup> or roughly .11 per cent, the accuracy tolerance of the balance (and associated test weights), and the other minute variables in the specific gravity determination process, the first decimal is about all we can expect in the way of reliability and reproducibility of results. Addressing the matter of determination of fineness of gold objects (including ancient gold coins) by specific gravity measurements, Professor Earle R. Caley has said "...there is no point, therefore, in determining the specific gravity of objects to more than the first decimal place in per cent for the purpose of estimating their gold content by this method, nor is there any point in expressing the results closer than the nearest whole number in per cent. Furthermore, the method should be restricted to objects of a high degree of fineness."<sup>7</sup>

Let us now examine specific gravities obtained by the author in the course of acquisition of a U.S. Gold Type Set, 1795-1933. We shall do this in terms of the four chronological periods into which U.S. gold coins fall. The first period runs from inception of gold coinage in 1795 to August 1, 1834, and the gold content was 916/23 fine. Composition of the alloy is now not at all certain. Discussion with Mint Assay Laboratory personnel by the author in 1971 disclosed that destructive assays of coins of this period by the New York Assay Office showed no more than one part per 1000 of silver, the rest being almost entirely copper. Walter Breen, however, in his very useful writings on U.S. Gold Coins, addresses the matter of the legal reduction by the Act of June 28, 1834 of the quarter eagle from 67.5 grains 916 2/3 fine to 64.5 grains 899.225 fine, and says the new worth of the old coinage of face value of $100.00 was now $106.60 "plus silver content of alloy."<sup>8</sup>

* = Counterfeit

Following the recommendation made above concerning rounding off at the first decimal, and also allowing a  $\pm .1$  tolerance on the specific gravity figure listed in TABLE I for the ½ AG & ½ CU alloy specific gravity =  $17.8 \pm .1$ , or a range of 17.7-17.9. Of the 16 valid coins in the table, 11 fall within the range just established. If we loosen up the tolerance by another  $\pm .1$ , or a total tolerance of a little more than  $\pm 1$  per cent, 3 more coins fall in the new range. Only two valid coins are out of the range, one above and one below. Even though this is a small sample of valid coins, almost 88 per cent fall within the range of 17.6-18.0. Looking at the nine invalid coins, only one falls within the range. Outside the range, seven are above and one is below, a total of eight or about 89 per cent of this admittedly small sample. The range, therefore, of 17.6-18.0 as the specific gravity of 1795-

1834 U.S. Gold coins seems to be a useful check-point for the collector. This is not to say that because a coin falls within the range all caution should be foregone and the coin not subjected to inspection under the microscope, etc. It does say for a coin outside this range the collector will be well advised to subject the coin to very careful scrutiny before he adds it to his collection.

The gold coins of the next period are the Classic Head Series, 1834-1839. From August 1, 1834 to January 17, 1837 the gold content of U.S. coins was 899.225 fine, and from January 18, 1837 on through 1933 the gold content was 900 fine. If we assume the alloy was CU, then the specific gravities in TABLE I are 17.303 and 17.317 respectively. Let us settle on 17.3 as the calculated specific gravity for gold coins of this period.

* = Counterfeit

If we adopt a range of 17.1-17.5 for the specific gravity for this period, we find seven of 14 coins within the range. Notice that five coins of the 14, in late 1834 and 1835, could have been struck from pre-August 1834 planchets, since they fit within our previous period range of 17.6-18.0, and they are valid coins, not counterfeits. So seven of nine coins fit within our initial range. Overall 12 of 14 coins fit within both ranges, or about 86 per cent. The three counterfeits, too small a sample perhaps from which to draw a valid conclusion, all fall above the 17.1-17.5 range, and clearly were counterfeit on grounds other than specific gravity. The range of 17.1-17.5 for the specific gravity of 1834-1839 U.S. Gold coins appears to be a useful check point, keeping in mind coins from the beginning of the period might actually have been struck on planchets from the earlier period (see TABLE II and discussion).

For the third period, the Coronet and Indian Head Series, 1839-1908, let us use the same specific gravity range of 17.1-17.5, and the table is:

* = Counterfeit

‡ = Suspected Counterfeit

Looking at the 18 valid coins, we find that 13 are within the 17.1-17.5 range we have selected, three are very slightly over and two are somewhat over our range. About 72 per cent are in the range. Of the five invalid or suspected invalid coins, only one is just within the top of the range, and four are above, so 80 per cent are out of our established range. Small samples, perhaps, but isn't a word to the wise sufficient? It is interesting to note that eight of the 18 valid coins are clustered in the 17.2-17.4 range, so it would appear 17.3 as the calculated specific gravity is a very good starting point. Notice, too, that as the years move to the right in this period the specific gravity tends to cluster closer to our 17.3 figure. Unaccounted for is the 1903-P $2½, a pristine gem coin, which today looks as if it had just come off the coining press. This coin is also above standard weight.

Gold dollars have not been forgotten. They are not included in Table IV above or in Table V which follows. Their very small size makes it difficult to get an accurate specific gravity reading. A weight in water of a gold dollar of 1.58 grams gave a specific gravity of 18.55, while a weight in water of the same coin of 1.575 grams gave a specific gravity of 17.57. This difference of only ½ of 1/100 of a gram results in widely divergent specific gravity readings. The balance, therefore, must be a very good one, else your results may tend to confuse rather than clarify. The author has five gold dollars, each weighing 25.77 grains against the standard 25.8 grains, and each has a specific gravity of 17.57. To make sure there was no bias in the balance, two coins were treated as one, three as one, four as one, and five as one, and specific gravities were run on all these combinations. The results were a uniform specific gravity of 17.57. Why gold dollars do not fit in our specific gravity range of 17.1-17.5, I cannot answer. All the author can say is - "be extra careful in your specific gravity determinations of U.S. gold dollars, and if the specific gravity is a little high, don't reject the coin(s) on that ground alone."

The one fairly deceptive counterfeit examined had a specific gravity of 18.0 and weight and diameter were within mint standards. Another counterfeit, which should not have fooled anyone, being a very poor and obvious casting, was heavy in weight, too great in diameter, and had a specific gravity of 13.44. It had, however, excellent and very deceptive reeding. The collector should make careful examination of all the attributes of a coin before he adds it to his collection!

Looking at the last period, St. Gaudens and Indian Series, 1907-1933, the table is:

Of the nine coins, six fall within the tightened-up range of 17.2-17.4. If we open up the range to 17.1-17.5, seven coins are in the range, or almost 78 per cent. Both quarter eagles outside the high side of our tolerance are gem BU coins.

TABLES II through V can perhaps be summarized as follows:

In light of the data set forth above, the author submits that specific gravity determination can be considered one of the several indicators or check-points useful to the collector in acquisition of coins for his collection.

Pittman Announces Inauguration of Authentication Service

The American Numismatic Association's Certification Service (ANACS) officially will open its doors, ready to receive coins for examination as to authenticity, on June 15, 1972, under the direction of Charles Hoskins, assisted by Philip B. Neisser and Morris Boley, all formerly with the U.S. Mint, according to an announcement by ANA president John Jay Pittman.

The address of ANACS is P.O. Box 87, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C. 20044.

Read carefully the following points before sending your coins:

1. If, in the opinion of ANACS, your coin is genuine, your coin will be given a registration number and will be issued a certificate bearing on one side the detailed photos of the obverse and reverse of your coin, and on the other side will be the numbered certification.
2. Insure or register your coin for whatever value you place upon it, and include with your coin a like amount of postage for your coin's insured or registered return.

3. ANACS will not be responsible for insuring your coin for any amount greater than whatever insurance can be covered by the return postage you include.

4. Basically, the following identifying information must accompany your coin:

- Name of issuing country

- Denomination

- Date

- Mintmark

- Mintmaster or assayer, if initials are on coin

- Value you place upon your coin

- Who is the owner (if other than person submitting coin)

- From whom purchased

- Your name (printed) and mailing address

5. ANACS' regular examination will include study through one or two of the stereoscopic microscopes and, if necessary, weighing to the fourth decimal point in grams and specific gravity measurement.

6. Fees for such regular examination of a coin are:

- $5.00 for a coin of up to $150 value.

- $7.50 for a coin of from $151 to $300 value.

- $10.00 for a coin of from $301 to $500 value.

- 5 per cent of the value of the coin if over $500.00.

Payment of the fee, plus return postage and insurance, MUST accompany your coin.

7. ANACS estimates that only about 5 per cent of the submitted coins will need more sophisticated examination, such as x-ray diffraction, x-ray fluorescence, neutron activation, scanning electron micrographs, etc. If your coin proves to require such more sophisticated tests, your coin will be held and you will be so notified and quoted the extra cost. If you want ANACS to proceed with the more complex test, send your check for the extra work. If you desire to forego further tests, your coin will be returned to you.

8. You may submit as many coins at one time as you wish. If more than one coin, state value of each coin. Sets, such as proof sets, are not considered single items.

9. Anyone, anywhere in the world, may submit coins to ANACS, but payments must be made in U.S. funds.

ANACS expects a deluge of 1893-S and 1892-S dollars, 1932-D and -S quarters, 1877 cents, Mexican Maximiliano 20 gold pesos, and Latin American 8 reales, among others, to be sent for examination as soon as the doors open.

Many of the coins are expected to be returned the same day as received. The certificate will follow, since it must await the developing of the film and the printing of the photos, which may take as long as a week.

FEATURING FAKES

DO YOU HAVE THE ORIGINAL?

In this pile of today's mail comes this from an eastern state:

"Two weeks had elapsed before a more experienced collector showed me why this 'AU' 1932-S quarter was only a whizzed, buffed-up EF and, by then, the five days' period the advertiser allowed for return had expired, so I was stuck with it."

And, from a Pacific Coast state:

"That large cent was not 'UNC' as advertised. However, I intend to keep it just to remind me never again to order any coin advertised at a fire-sale price!"

Because thousands of collectors have been swindled by fakes and by overgrading, and because most of them won't discover that fact until they try to sell the coins they bought at an advertised fire-sale price, the ANA board of governors in February passed an amendment to ANA's bylaws:

The selling and/or trading by any member on three or more occasions of counterfeit or altered numismatic items, irrespective of his lack of knowledge as to the authenticity thereof, may be deemed to constitute conduct unbecoming to a member and prejudicial to the welfare of the association.

The selling and/or trading by any member on one or more occasions of counterfeit or altered numismatic items, with knowledge as to the lack of authenticity thereof, shall be deemed to constitute conduct unbecoming to a member and prejudicial to the welfare of the association.

And this directive:

RESOLVED that the selling and/or trading by any member of over-graded numismatic items, irrespective of his knowledge or lack of knowledge as to the accuracy of the grading thereof, may be deemed to constitute conduct unbecoming to a member and prejudicial to the welfare of the association, such resolution to be publicized.

It sounds tough, and it is! In plain English, one who violates the foregoing may be suspended or expelled publicly from membership in ANA.

You'll see on these pages four highly over-graded early USA silver dollars, bought trustingly by a brand new collector in Texas. Interested in Early Americana, he began collecting with these four specimens, one by one.

Trusting the advertiser, he accepted the seller's word that the 1797 was "Ch AU" and a bargain at $950.00. My Brown & Dunn tells me it's only an EF. My guess is that $600 would have been a fair price.

Next the new collector was sold the 1798 piece as being "Choice AU" for $650.00, whereas according to B&D it's just barely a VF specimen worth, perhaps, $175.

Still innocent and still trusting, the Texan next was sold the 1799/8 as a "Ch Unc" for $1,200.00, whereas I'd say it's only a nice EF, and only worth several hundred dollars less than the $1,200.00 he paid.

It was the 1800 "BU" piece, for which he was soaked $1,100.00, which opened his eyes!

He proudly showed that "BU" piece to a long-time collector, who brought out his Brown & Dunn and showed him that the 1800 dollar was only EF, and worth only about $350 or $400.

His collecting career, now ended, probably was the shortest on record, just 120 days!

MUSEUM NOTES

RICHARD A. LONG
Museum Director

This is the third in a series of articles that report the status of your museum collections - we have covered Mexico and the United States, and now let's talk about the Israel collection.

We are fortunate to have a friend who sends us most of the recent Israel pieces as they are issued. Sylvia Haffner, a popular dealer in the field, has kept us current for years, so our collection is nearly complete. However, some of our early pieces were acquired long ago and they are not of the fine quality that the coins that Mrs. Haffner is sending, and we are missing the gold pieces, so we have holes to fill. Here is a list by Yeoman numbers of the Israel types, exclusive of gold coins, for which we do not have a choice BU specimen:

|-----|------------|-----------|
| Y-1 | 25 Mils    | 1948-1949 |
| 3   | 5 Prutot   | 1949      |
| 4   | 10 Prutot  | 1949      |
| 6   | 25 Prutot  | 1949      |
| 8a  | 50 Prutot  | 1954      |
| 12  | 250 Prutot | 1949      |
| 44  | 10 Pounds  | 1967      |

In addition to these coins, we need the medals of Israel, and the paper money. We have virtually nothing of display quality in either of those groups, so a choice uncirculated piece of any date or type will be very welcome.

Would you like to give us a hand and be counted as one of the original donors who helped to build your Museum collections for the ANA? Just pick out a pretty piece and place a fair market value on it, and send it to me here at the museum. I'll send you a tax-deductible receipt right away, and all of our members will appreciate your kindness.

APOLLO 16 MOON FLIGHT

Presidential Art Medals, Inc. of Vandalia, Ohio, has issued a medal commemorating the Apollo 16 moon flight. Astronauts Mattingly, Young and Duke are portrayed hovering over the moon. The official Apollo 16 insignia is also shown. On the reverse side is a tribute to the rescue team, the number of hours the astronauts spent on the moon and the dates of the flight. Medals are 63 mm in diameter and available in antique finish bronze and pure silver limited to 10,000 serially numbered pieces.

NEW & RECENT ISSUES

by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Bolivia

Bolivia's coat of arms is elliptical in shape, with a border divided into two equal parts. The upper part has the word BOLIVIA in black against a gold background; the lower half has nine golden stars against a blue background. The central area of the shield portrays Mount Potosi in the upper right, with the rising sun to its left. At the bottom are an alpaca, a sheaf of wheat and a breadfruit tree. Three draped Bolivian banners, a cannon and two rifles are on either side of the shield. There is an Inca battle-ax on the right and a liberty cap on the left. A condor spreads its wings above the shield, between branches of laurel and olive.

Y- . 25 centavos, 1971. Nickel. Obverse: Arms within beaded oval; legend above, REPUBLICA DE BOLIVIA; 10 stars below. ## Germany (East)

Friedrich von Schiller (1759-1805) was a famous playwright and poet. Next to Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Schiller is considered the greatest dramatist of his time. His works inspired German liberals in their fight for liberty during the early 1800s and in 1848. When he was only 17, Schiller started to write his play, The Robbers, which caused a sensation when it was published. The work is considered a milestone in German theatre history.

Y-33. 20 mark, 1972. Silver. Obverse:

Iran

A modern visitor to Iran will find much remaining of the many cultures of Persia. There are great architectural wonders and smaller treasures kept in museums—seals and ceramics of 6,000 years ago, golden cups of Marlik, imperial sculptures of Persepolis, gracious inscriptions of Bisotun, and much more. A most recent big event in Iran marked the 2500th anniversary of the Persian dynasty. Coins commemorating the occasion and the coronations of the Shah and Empress Farah were issued.

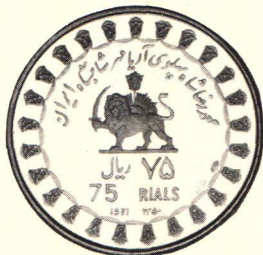

Y- . 25 rials, 1971. .999 silver. Obverse: Statue of a two-headed bull on top of a column from the royal palace in Persepolis, the ancient capital. Reverse: Crowned lion with sword to left in center; value and date below in English and Arabic, 25 RIALS 1971 — 1350 (Mohammedan date). Arabic legend above, Mohammed Riza Pahlevi Aryamehr Shah-in-Shah El Iran. An ornamental border encloses the field. Diameter 26 mm. Weight 7.5 grams.

Y- . 200 rials, 1971. .999 silver.
Obverse: Conjoined portraits of the Shah and his empress, Farah Diba to left. Reverse: Similar to preceding except for value. Diameter 50 mm. Weight 60 grams.

Luxembourg

This country is continuing a series started in 1965 with the one franc coin. Luxembourg francs are at par with Belgium francs. The coins listed were struck at Brussels mint.

Y-42. 5 francs, 1971. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Portrait of ruler to left; legend around, JEAN GRAND-DUC LUXEMBOURG; on the bottom the designer's name, J.N. LEFEVRE. Reverse: In the center crowned value 5 F. date below 1971, all within a half-wreath. Edge milled. Diameter 24 mm. Weight 5.99 grams.

Y- . 10 francs, 1971 Nickel. Obverse: Similar to above. Reverse: In the center, crowned value 10 F. flanked by leaves; date 1971 and initials of designer N.J.L. in two lines below. Edge plain. Diameter 27 mm. Weight 8 grams.

Sweden

In 1969 a committee in Sweden recommended that the 5 ore and 5 krona should be made smaller than previous issues. The change would mean a savings in minting costs and the weight of a certain sum of money in coins would be less and the money easier to handle. Following the committee's suggestions, both listings are smaller than previous issues.

Y-88. 5 ore, 1972. Bronze. Obverse: Three crowns and SVERIGE below.

Y-89. 5 krona, 1972. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Head of king to left, date below 1972, legend around: GUSTAF VI ADOLF SVERIGES KONUNG. Reverse: Arms in shieldform with crown above, all between value 5 - KR; motto below: PLIKTEN FRAMFÖR ALLT (Duty or obligation before or above everything else); mintmarks on each side. ### Century Old Notes

The sale of Colonial and Continental paper money, at Bangs, Merwin & Co.'s sale rooms, New York, January 31, was well attended and prices generally ruled low. The Vermont note (excessively rare) sold for thirteen dollars. There was quite a demand for Confederate notes, and, judging by the prices realized and competition manifested, we think the Confederate currency will rise in value as relics of American history.—Mason's Coin Collector's Magazine, 1872.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

Dr. Prime, in his "Travels in Japan," says: "Passing through a street and seeing some forty or fifty coppers hanging on as many nails at the front of a shop (the copper coin has a hole in the centre,) I inquired what they were for, and was told they were placed there by the shopkeeper to save time and trouble in answering the calls of the mendicants. When one came along he simply took a copper and passed on, never abusing the charity of the shopkeeper by taking two." — American Journal of Numismatics, 1872.

From the Pages of The Numismatist Fifty Years Ago

by Leon T. Lindheim LM 290

FOR THE past three years I have looked back at the ANA of fifty years ago as seen through the eyes of The Numismatist. In its way it is another manifestation of the current popular fad we call NOSTALGIA. One person may pursue his "thing" by collecting old phonograph records, while another assembles a scrapbook of railroad trains of the 19th century.

Of one thing you can be certain. Inflation is always in evidence, when we compare 1922 prices with 1972 prices. One sale, conducted by B. Max Mehl on May 2, 1922 will illustrate the point. The James Ten Eyck collection, consisting of 2754 lots, realized $45,638.42. Included in the sale was a Brasher Doubloon, which sold for $3,000 and an 1804 silver dollar, which brought $840. I would guesstimate that the 1804 dollar would bring close to $100,000 today and the Brasher Doubloon at least $250,000. I will close this subject merely by mentioning that fifty years ago you could purchase the 1877 1c in proof for $1.75, the 1877 3c nickel in proof for $2.75 and the 1877 5c nickel in proof for $3.25!

In at least one respect 1922 was an odd year. The Treasury Department announced that there was no coin shortage — in fact there was an oversupply of 5-, 10-, 25- and 50- cent pieces. As a result only one-cent pieces and silver dollars were coined in addition to gold double eagles and the Grant Memorial Commemorative issues. This Grant issue was unusual in a number of ways. First, both silver half dollars and gold dollars were authorized and coined. Second, the promoters initially had a quantity struck with an incused star to the right of Grant's head on the obverse. Then the star was buffed off the dies and additional pieces were minted without the star. This was done on both the silver and gold issues. Third, since many more Grant half dollars were struck without the star, the "star" variety sold for a higher price, and to insure the sale of both, the sponsors instituted tie-in sales. At first it was necessary to purchase 15 "without star" variety to obtain one "star" variety. Later the ratio was reduced to 10 to 1. This procedure was not necessary with the gold dollars since an equal number of both varieties were struck. Initially, the gold dollar with star sold for $3.50 and without star for $3. The half dollar with star sold for $1.50 and without star for $1.

An important series of articles on paper money began in the June issue of The Numismatist when D.C. Wismer of Hatfield, Pa. started his series entitled "Descriptive List of Obsolete Paper Money." This important series continued intermittently until 1936, when it was finally concluded.

Another series of articles, "Naval Medals of the Spanish-American War," by Malcolm Storer attracted my attention because in the past half-century, after two World Wars, a Korean incident and Viet Nam, we have almost forgotten the Spanish-American War. Mr. Storer prefaced his listing with: "After twenty-four years it would seem time to collate the medals struck in commemoration of events of the Spanish-American War of 1898." Of course! Most of the veterans and their families were still alive and the war had a personal impact on their lives.

On June 24, 1922, one of the giants of American numismatics died in London at the age of 69. J. Sanford Saltus, a wealthy American and benefactor of the American Numismatic Society and other organizations died of cyanide poisoning. The Coroner's Jury ruled it an accidental death, since he had purchased a small quantity of potassium cyanide for the purpose of cleaning coins, and it is believed that he mistakenly swallowed some in place of some ginger ale that was close by. At the time of his death Mr. Saltus held the unique position of being president of both the British Numismatic Society and the New York Numismatic Club. In his name the American Numismatic Society presents an annual J. Sanford Saltus medal for outstanding excellence in the field of medallic art, honoring in the past such great artists as James Earl Fraser, Adolph A. Weinman, Victor D. Brenner, Paul Manship and Gertrude K. Lathrop.

The 1922 convention was held in New York City, running from August 26 to 31. All meetings were held in the American Fine Arts Society Building (215 W. 57th St.), with most out-of-town guests staying at the Great Northern Hotel (118 W. 57th St.) a short block away. There were 94 registered conventioners in attendance. This was the first convention of the ANA where an auction sale was held in conjunction with the convention. It was a modest auction sale of only 800 lots, with the highest price realized being $140 for a "good" Augustus Humbert $50 slug of 1851. It was at this convention where life membership was first introduced. The fee was set at $50, it being reasoned that with this amount invested at a reasonable 4½% interest, a return of $2.25 would be realized annually, which was enough to pay the 50c membership dues and $1.50 for the annual subscription to The Numismatist, with 25c left over. On the floor of the convention verbal requests for Life Membership were received and accepted as follows:

- |                                     |                                     |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 - Elliott Smith, New York City    | 5 - F.C.C. Boyd, New York City      |
| 2 - H.H. Yawger, Indiana, Pa.       | 6 - Charles Marcus, Davenport, Iowa |
| 3 - Ludger Gravel, Montreal, Canada | 7 - Waldo C. Moore, Lewisburg, Ohio |
| 4 - George J. Bauer, Rochester N.Y. | 8 - Moritz Wormser, New York City   |

Considering that as of July 31, 1922 membership stood at 811, as opposed to 704 a year earlier, the sale of eight life memberships was an excellent start.

Of the over 200 advertisers in The Numismatists today, only two carried ads in the issues of 1922. One is our old faithful Norman Shultz of Salt Lake City and the other is Spink & Son, Ltd. of London, England. Spink's, being a corporate entity, continues, even though the principals may change, but Norman Shultz holds a unique position and we wish him many more years of coin dealing. Fifty years ago Mr. Shultz was selling unc. $3 gold pieces for $9 and unc. 1856 Flying Eagle cents for $13.50. I will bet he wishes that he could repurchase some of those at ten times his sale price.

In conclusion, although I recommend that every serious collector attempt to build a library of back issues of The Numismatist because they make an excellent reference library when used in conjunction with the Fifty Year Index (1888-1938) and the Twenty Year Index (1939-1958), the present issues contain more meaningful articles on every facet of collecting, be it paper money, medals, tokens or coins. But then, why not? With more than 25,000 members and a potential of at least 100,000 currently, we deserve the best for ourselves...and we have it.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

Not a shadow of doubt can exist, when reviewing the rapid increase of coin collectors, that eventually the science of numismatology will be one of the most important studies and pastimes in America. We hope to see societies formed in every city in the country and should not be astonished to find, within the next five years, a number of flourishing periodicals devoted to the coin trade in successful operation. Coin dealers are multiplying on every hand, and, if coins are to be had, there is no reason why the business should not be a profitable one to engage in. A few enterprising coin dealers additional in each of the large cities would benefit collectors as well as dealers vastly. There is room for all, and a great demand for coins. — Mason's Coin Collectors' Magazine, 1872.

LIBRARY REPORT

Wirgin Donates 200 Copies Of Inquiry Into Medallions

Two hundred copies of A Metrological Inquiry Into The Cistophoric Medallions of the Emperor Hadrian by Wolf Wirgin have been donated by the author to the American Numismatic Association Library. These paperback publications will be sold with proceeds used to acquire other reference works for the library. The 44 page work was published in 1966 by Variety Books, Bronxville, New York.

Wirgin, ANA No. 18024, was admitted into the Association on March 1, 1950. He spent a great deal of time gathering medallions issued by Hadrian and several previous emperors so that he could compare weights. A catalogue of charts resulting from the research is included in Wirgin's book.

The inquiry offers an explanation of the weight differences between the medallions of Hadrian and those of previous emperors. Wirgin's theory differs with previous opinions that held that most of the cistophori issued by Hadrian were overstrikes of issues of Mark Antony and Augustus with a few of Claudius.

Price of Wirgin's work is $3.00. ANA members in good standing may purchase the book at a one-third discount — $2.00 — until the limited supply is exhausted.

Free Book Exhibit

Publishers of numismatic books will have an opportunity to exhibit their wares, free of charge, at the 81st Anniversary Convention in New Orleans, August 15 - 19. Their books will be shown at the ANA Library table and displayed in a manner that will allow interested collectors to peruse through the pages. At the close of the convention the books will become the property of the ANA Library and added to the reference works available to members through the library.

Publishers desiring to have books exhibited should write direct to the librarian, Mrs. Geneva Karlson, ANA Library, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Co. 80901.

Munzkatalog now in English

CATALOGUE OF GERMAN COINS by P. Arnold, D. Steinhilber and H. Kuthmann, 1972. 320 pp. illus. Hard Cover. Sterling Publishing Co. President Coin Corp., 419 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10016. $12.95.

Every type of coin for modern Germany and the principalities which formed the German state, starting with the year 1800, are listed chronologically in this work.

In addition to regular issues, the book also records many essay and pattern pieces as well as all of the commemoratives. Emergency coins minted privately or by local communities are not found in this reference.

Originally published in a German language edition, the book is designed so that the collector can easily locate any coin therein. The 3,000 excellent actual size photos show every type and almost every variety. Listings are arranged alphabetically according to the names of the issuing states and within each state, coins are divided according to the reigns of the various rulers. All coins are described and valuations given except in the cases of extremely rare coins. Brief notes are included to provide historical background on the coins and issuing states.

German coin students will find Catalogue of German Coins a thorough and easy to use text. —TM.

Worn With Pride

INDIAN PEACE MEDALS IN AMERICAN HISTORY by Francis Paul Prucha. 1971. 186 pp. Illus. Hard cover. State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 816 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. $15.00.

Following a practice of French, Spanish, and British, the United States government presented Indian peace medals to important chiefs and warriors as symbols of attachment to the new nation. The medals were used as marks of rank within the tribes and were prized possessions.

One Commissioner of Indian Affairs declared, "that without medals, any plan of operations among the Indians, be it what it may, is essentially enfeebled."

Designed by the best artists of the day, the medals comprise a gallery of the Presidents with portraits of the nation's leaders from Washington to Benjamin Harrison on them. The reverses bore symbolic representations of peace and friendship and of the Indians' advance toward civilization.

The book tells the story of the use of the medals in Indian relations and of the designing and production of the medals. Illustrations in actual size of all Indian peace medals struck by the United States for official presentation to the Indians are included in the work. There are many portraits of chiefs wearing the medals and reproductions of the certificates that sometimes were presented with the medals. —TM.

Voluminous Medals

WAR MEDALS OF THE BRITISH ARMY, 1650-1891, by Thomas Carter. 1972. 704 pp. Illus. Hard cover. Arms and Armour Press, Lionel Leventhal Limited, 2-6 Hampstead High Street, London N.W. 3. $14.40 net in United Kingdom only.

Medal collectors will find this volume especially helpful if they are specializing in the Victorian period. It deals with medals of the Honourable East India Company, campaign medals 1801-91, notes on the Victoria Cross and recipients from its institution up to the South African Wars, 1877-9, Distinguished Conduct Medal, and Long and Meritorious Service Medals, etc.

Among its mass of detail, the book contains reference material such as lists of the British recipients of the French Military Medal and the Sardinian Medal for Valour awarded during the Crimean War, many of which carry citations. — TM.

Armbands Four Bucks Each

NORTH AMERICAN INDIAN TRADE SILVER, by W.H. Carter. 1971. Two volumes. Paper cover or spiral binding. North American Indian Publications, 483½ Richmond Street, London 12, Ontario, Canada. $8.50 per volume.

At one time, between 1690 and 1870, the going rate for large silver armbands purchased from European traders was "4 large beaver or 4 bucks," according to a chart included in Vol. II of Carter's work. Another chart shows some of the items that could be purchased for one beaver pelt: a brass kettle, two ivory combs, two pounds of brown sugar, a dozen assorted needles, four spoons, a shirt or a quart of English brandy, to name a few.

Carter has spent six years in research, travel, excavating, and examining pieces in collections. He passes along much of the information he has been gathering in these two volumes. Sketches and photographs aid in his presentation.

Subjects covered in the references include makers marks, discovery and collecting trade silver, how the trade silver was worn, the thickness of the trade silver, information on traders, effigy pieces, rarity scale, various designs found on trade silver, conclusions about Indian silversmiths and the number of pieces made, and much more.

Carter promises that "each volume is complete in itself and there is no duplication of text or plates."

Volume II contains portions of the 1906 Ontario Archaeological Report and Harriet Maxwell Converse's work on the Iriquois silver brooches (published in 1900), and a section on medals awarded to Canadian Indians.

Volume II, the most recently published work, is not free from typographical errors and for that price one would expect it to be. One might expect to pay $8.50 for contents such as those prepared by Carter, but judging books by their covers, a more substantial binding might be expected for that price. — TM.

List of Honored Names

HONOURS AND AWARDS OF THE OLD CONTEMPIBLES, published by Arms and Armour Press in association with J.B. Hayward and Son. 1971. 72 pp. Hard cover. Arms and Armour Press, Lionel Leventhal Limited, 2-6 Hampstead High Street, London N.W. 3. $4.80 in United Kingdom only.

In August and September 1914, the Allies foiled the German plan of rushing through Belgium and France in a sudden overwhelming flood. This reference work lists the names of those honored in "The Contemptible Little Army" which fought at Mons, The Marne, The Aisne, and Ypres. It includes those of the Royal Navy, Royal Flying Corps, Royal Naval Air Service, the Indian Army and Colonial Forces.

The work is a companion volume to South African War Honours and Awards. It is based on a virtually unobtainable publication of the Army and Navy Gazette in 1915. Medal collectors will find it a source work of value. — TM.

Young Numismatist Awards For 1972

Governor Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Jr., Chairman of the ANA Young Numismatist Committee has announced ten awards to be given in connection with the junior collectors program in 1972. Two of the awards are made by the association and eight by individuals or organizations interested in encouraging the participation of juniors in numismatics. The ten awards are designated as follows:

(1) The Debbie Jane Gould Memorial Award

(2) The ANA Junior Literary Award

(3) The Lewis M. Reagan Memorial Foundation Award

(4) The ANA Class C (Junior) Convention Exhibit Award

(5) The Gordon Z. Greene U.S. Exhibit Award

(6) The James L. Betton Foreign Exhibit Award

(7) The Outstanding Young Numismatist Award

(8) The Hazel Lindstrom Outstanding Adult Leader or Advisor Award

(9) The Charles K. Lyle U.S. Paper Money Exhibit Award

(10) The Melissa Van Grover Award

Qualifications for all of these awards (except No. 8) are that the contestants be junior members of the ANA at the time of their achievements, although they may have become adults when the awards are actually presented at the New Orleans convention in August 1972; their achievements must have been originated and carried out on their own; and their entries must be received by Chairman Hallenbeck by July 15, 1972.

In the case of written articles, there is no minimum or maximum limit of length; the manuscript must be typed or printed on 8½ by 11 sheets, double spaced and on only one side of the paper; and it must bear the author's name, ANA number, affiliations with other numismatic organizations, a short biographical sketch and his black-and-white glossy photograph. In all cases, the decisions of the judges shall be final.

An article once submitted may be resubmitted for judging in a future year if further research is done on the subject matter and the article is revised substantially. However, should the author pass the eligible age of junior status, the article or manuscript cannot be further altered, edited or otherwise changed for resubmission.

A manuscript or article may be submitted by an officer or editor of a local, state or regional organization but all rules herein must apply. In case an article is submitted by other than the author, the written permission of the author for such submission must accompany it and it will then be treated as if submitted by the author himself.

Rules and qualifications for the individual awards are as follows:

(1) This is an educational award to be made to the junior author of the best article submitted. Each entrant is expected to have conducted in-depth research of his area of interest, going beyond information previously published in standard numismatic reference works, and his article must demonstrate individual and specialized involvement with his topic. The articles submitted may have been published or not, and may have been submitted to a local, state or regional organization in competition or for publication. The award will be in the form of a plaque.

(2) As the name implies, this is a literary award to be presented to the junior who writes the best essay or gives the best talk on a numismatic subject. The information may be from original research or may have been gathered from various sources but credit must be given by the author for his source or sources. Original conclusions are encouraged, particularly when logically presented. Manuscripts will be judged for their content, general interest and literary excellence.

(3) Qualifications and rules for this award are the same as the preceeding (2) except that the article must have been published. The form of both awards is a plaque.

(4) ANA junior members may enter exhibits in Class Cat at the annual convention. This award will be made to the junior whose exhibit in this class is judged best in accordance with exhibit rules; identical standards applying to adult exhibits will prevail. Junior exhibitors shall mount, prepare and place their own exhibits, except that if an exhibitor cannot make the trip to the convention he may name in writing an agent of his choice. The ANA convention exhibit chairman shall be apprised of the exhibit and his approval sought. A statement, signed by the exhibitor regarding the above stipulation must accompany the agent who is to place the exhibit.

(5) Qualifications and rules for the Gordon Z. Greene Award are the same as for the preceding (4) except that only exhibits of U.S. material will be considered in competition for it.

(6) Qualifications and rules for the James L. Betton Award are the same as for the ANA Junior Exhibit Award (4) except that only exhibits of foreign material will be considered in competition for it.

(7) This award is given to the junior judged most deserving of it over the year from May 1, 1971 through April 30, 1972. Selection of the recipient shall be on the same basis as the ANA award to the Outstanding Club Representative on a cumulative point consideration of nominees' numismatic service rendered. Eligibility shall be on a local, area or regional basis, and nominations may be made by any ANA individual or club member. Talks given before numismatic or educational groups, papers published (including locally), enthusiasm for numismatics, and leadership in local numismatic circles will all be considered in the awarding of points. A form is available for nominating a candidate for this award and a copy may be obtained from Committee Chairman, Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Jr., 1141 West Lexington Ave., Fort Wayne, Indiana 46807.

(8) This award, by Mrs. Hazel Lindstrom, past chairman of the ANA Junior Numismatics Committee for several years, shall be presented to the adult adjudged to have contributed most toward the encouragement of young numismatists. Nominations for this award may be made by individual or club members of the ANA or by educators, (In Michigan it is necessary that junior and senior high school clubs have adult faculty advisors and, for this reason it is felt that educators, properly identified, should be allowed to submit nominations). The qualities to be considered in awarding points are: time, knowledge, educational contributions (books, papers, etc.), leadership in ethical and moral standards, ability to organize, attract new members to the hobby, etc. Monetary contributions shall not be considered a basis for this award.

(9) Qualifications and rules for the Charles K. Lyle Award are the same as for the ANA Junior Exhibit Award (4) except that only exhibits of U.S. paper money will be considered in competition for it. The award will be in the form of a trophy.

(10) Qualifications and rules for the Melissa Van Grover Award are the same as for the ANA Junior Exhibit Award (4) except that only exhibits of Israel or Judaic Numismatic material will be considered in competition for it.

Those wishing to submit an entry for an exhibit award (nos. 4, 5, 6, 9, and 10) should write for exhibit rules and information to Exhibit Chairman, Robert L. Hendershott, P.O. Box 929, Clearwater, Florida 33517.

Those wishing to enter or submit an entry for any of the other awards (nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, and 8) should contact Young Numismatist Chairman, Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Jr., 1141 West Lexington Ave., Fort Wayne, Indiana 46807.

Seminar Scholarship May Be Offered Young Numismatist

Although plans are not yet definite, it looks like the ANA may offer one or more scholarships to one or more young numismatists to the ANA summer seminar on numismatics. The seminar will be in July in Colorado Springs.

The scholarship essentially will consist of travel expenses to and from Colorado Springs, the registration fee for the seminar and perhaps a small additional amount for other expenses.

Young numismatists who wish to apply or persons who wish to nominate a young numismatist for the scholarship may contact the Young Numismatist chairman, Governor Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Jr., 1141 West Lexington Ave., Fort Wayne, Indiana 46807.

Application blanks and additional information will be provided to interested parties, if the scholarship plans become firm. Selection will be based on similar criteria to that of the Outstanding Young Numismatist with perhaps some consideration of financial need.

INTERNATIONAL NUMISMATIC CONGRESS NEW YORK - WASHINGTON September 10-17, 1973

Anyone planning to attend, who has not as yet been in touch with the Secretariat, is urgently requested to do so as soon as possible. The Committee on the Congress needs this information in order to make arrangements for sessions and accommodations. A preliminary schedule, to be mailed in the autumn of 1972, will go only to those who have indicated an intention of participating. Communications should be addressed to:

Secretariat, 1973 Congress
The American Numismatic Society
Broadway at 155th Street
New York, N. Y. 10032

Application forms for subsidies to defray living expenses in the United States can be obtained either from The American Numismatic Society or from Dr. Otto Morkholm, Royal Coin Cabinet, National Museum, DK-1220 Copenhagen, Denmark. Subsidies are limited to accredited young scholars from abroad and provide a maximum of $200 plus transportation between New York and Washington.

Patrons Sought

Members and friends of the American Numismatic Association are invited to become patrons of the convention to be held in New Orleans in Aug., according to Colman Ezkovich, patron chairman.

Ezkovich said that all contributors of $5.00 or more will be listed in the official souvenir program to be distributed during the convention. He added that only names and cities of residence will be listed; the donors' addresses will be omitted for security reasons.

The chairman said that convention expenses are "running rather high this year," and he noted that there will not be as much revenue from the bourse dealers as at the last convention due to a decrease of 20 tables.

"Here is a chance for all members and friends to stand up and be counted," Ezkovich said, "proving that they want to support their organization in a positive manner."

He added that clubs and professional numismatists also are urged to become patrons and will be listed the same as individual members.

Ezkovich asked that patrons send their contributions prior to June 15 to P.O. Box 52745, New Orleans, La. 70152. Checks should be made payable to the ANA 81st Anniversary Convention. Information sent with the contribution should include the patron's name, address, city and state and the type of listing—individual, club or dealer.

Ceremonies of the Louisiana Purchase were conducted at the center of Jackson Square, which remains the hub of Old New Orleans. It was laid out in 1718 by Adrien de Pauger, the French engineer who planned the original town. The square originally was called the Place d'Armes and military rituals were conducted at its center.

What Kind of Money Was Used to Pay for Louisiana?

By James H. Cohen, ANA 33221
General Chairman - 81st Anniversary Convention, 1972

PRIOR TO the Louisiana Purchase from France in 1803, Greater Louisiana was a very large segment of what is now the United States of America. The territory extended from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border and from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains. It all was purchased for $15 million. But how was the transaction consummated financially?

The first coinage in the United States was not started until 1793 (except for a handful of colonial copper and the dime of 1792). The total output of our Philadelphia Mint, including all copper, silver and gold, was less than $2 million between the time the first horse drawn press started to turn and 1803 when we were expected to pay for the Louisiana Purchase made during the presidency of Thomas Jefferson.

How was the sum of money counted out for payment to the French? The British were so short of hard money that they used captured Spanish and Spanish colonial coins which they counter-stamped with the likeness of George III of England—so their coinage could not have been used.

France was not overly wealthy at the time or the asking price for Louisiana would have been much higher. Some of the French coins of two or three decades before 1800 were rather scarce so surely the upstart country, the United States of America, did not have $15 million worth of them available.

With both France and Great Britain eliminated as possible sources of coinage, the question remains—what type of money was used to pay for the Louisiana Purchase?

The logical answer to the question is that Spanish, or, in all probability, Spanish colonial money was used. Carolus IV was on the throne of Spain at the time and, like his father Carolus III, was milking Mexico, Bolivia, Guatemala and Chile for all the wealth those countries could produce. In fact, the results of the practice, from the viewpoint of the Spanish royalty, were so gratifying that the next king, Ferdinand VII, attempted the same thing until 1821 when the colonials declared their independence.

A description of Spanish coinage might give a better idea of how money was figured during that period. It is almost the same in our change used today and with the gold coins that we used until 1933. Forerunners of our silver coins were Spanish coins called reales. Gold pieces were called scudos. There were five denominations of each metal—the half, one, two, four and eight reales and scudos. The silver pieces included the “picayune” or six and a quarter cent, the one real or 12½ cent, the two bit piece or two real, the four real (the most scarce currently), and the piece of eight. All silver coins of 1803 bore the likeness of Carolus IV with the legend HISPAN (Spain) ET (and) IND. (Indies) REX (King) on the reverse, as well as the mint mark and the mint master's initials. The pillars of Hercules with words PLUS ULTRA (more beyond) VISABLE also were on the reverse.

Spanish gold coins follow much the same pattern as the silver, with the eight scudos being the forerunner of our double eagle, the four scudos our $10 counterpart, and so on down the line.

Based on the above, if the French decided that payment was to be made in coin of the realm and not gold bullion, then there is no way that payment by the United States for the Louisiana Purchase could have been in anything other than Spanish colonial gold doubloons and its fractional parts.

Whether or not you agree either historically or numismatically, come to New Orleans for the ANA convention and find out if the Louisiana merchants give silver reales in change for greenbacks.

dollars has been reached.

There is a limit of five coins per order. Price per coin is $10.00, including handling and shipment by first class registered mail. Orders will be filled as quickly as possible during the calendar year 1972, Mrs. Brooks said.

Order cards were mailed by the San Francisco Assay Office to all foreign addresses beginning on April 24, Eastern United States on April 25, and Western United States on April 28. Orders received prior to May 1 were returned. If you are not on the Treasury mailing list, you may order direct to the United States Assay Office, Numismatic Div., 50 Fell St., San Francisco, CA.

Announcement of the acceptance of orders for 1972 uncirculated Eisenhower dollars will be made at a later date.

This month's listing begins the so-called MEDALLIC ART ERA of the ANA Convention Badge and Medal Series. Since 1960 each annual issue has been multi-struck on coining presses and by dies that have been prepared from sculptured models. This Boston issue was indeed a beautiful introduction to this era.

Note the minor changes in the outer legend when comparing Mr. Clapp's sketches with the medal issued. Exclusive of the outer legend, the obverse design has been utilized, in a larger size, for a number of years as the obverse for exhibit award medals at the annual conventions.

Indebtedness is expressed to Mrs. June Pond for the donation of the convention photograph to the archives.

Dollar Design Returns

Finance Minister John N. Turner announced recently that the Royal Canadian Mint will issue a 1972 silver dollar as a numismatic item, continuing the series which commenced in 1971 with the British Columbia silver dollar.

The obverse design on the coin will be the effigy of Queen Elizabeth II and the reverse design will be the Indian and voyageur in a canoe, with an islet and pine tree surmounted by northern lights in the background. This design was used on the first Canadian silver dollar in 1935, commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession to the throne of King George V, and has since been the standard design.

The coin, which will be double struck and attractively packaged, will sell for $3. It will be available only from the Numismatic Division of the Royal Canadian Mint.

The 1972 silver dollar will be 1.420 inches in diameter and will be made from an alloy of 500 fine silver.

Orders for the 1972 silver dollar will be accepted immediately and should be sent to Coins Uncirculated, P.O. Box 470, Ottawa, Ontario, K1N 8S5.

Orders should be accompanied by a covering remittance in the form of a money order, bank draft or certified cheque payable in Canadian dollars to the Royal Canadian Mint.

Closing date for the acceptance of all orders for 1972 coins will be September 30, 1972.

Mint Production Down

During the period under review, the Royal Mint produced 1,245 million coins. Of these, 1,203 million were produced at the Llantrisant Mint and 42 million at the Tower Hill Mint. These figures illustrate the declining importance of the London Mint in the actual striking of coins although many of the essential ancilliary operations continue to be carried out there.

The mint's total production was considerably less than in the previous year and the number of coins manufactured reflect two main factors. On the domestic side, the early completion of the decimal coins required for the D. Day stockpile reduced the necessity for a concentration of effort on United Kingdom coin and, on the export side, the numbers of coins struck for overseas and Commonwealth countries showed a reduction for the extremely high figures of last year. This lack of demand is in considerable part attributable to the preparations made in the preceeding year by a number of Commonwealth territories who changed their currency system at about the same time as the United Kingdom and who had therefore already made ample provision to meet immediate needs. This coincided with an unusually low level of demand among foreign customers during this year. Coinage demand is subject to wide fluctuations from year to year and the lower figures for 1971 do not reflect anything other than fairly normal variations.

Details for the coinage produced in 1971 are set out below:

|          | Llantrisant | Tower Hill |
|----------|-------------|------------|
| 50p      | —           | 3,849,000  |
| 10p      | 87,208,000  | —          |
| 5p       | 212,222,000 | 5,850,000  |
| 2p       | 75,000      | —          |
| 1p       | 364,400,000 | —          |
| ½p       | 238,972,000 | —          |
| Overseas | 300,225,800 | 31,879,000 |

Coinage for overseas governments represented more than 36% of the year's production. Among the countries supplied were the British Caribbean Territories, Brunei, Bermuda, Cambodia, Ceylon, Colombia, Cyprus, Dominica, Gambia, Guernsey, Guinea, Hong Kong, The Irish Republic, Iceland, Iraq, Kenya, Kuwait, Malawi, Tanzania and Vietnam.

The production of medals during the year totalled 85,938 and included a large number of commemorative medals struck on behalf of commercial firms. Embossing seals were prepared for the foreign and commonwealth office for use in overseas posts, for the royal courts of justice and for other official bodies. Postage and revenue dies were produced for the post office corporation, the inland revenue department and for some commonwealth countries.

The 1972 Liberia Proof Set

AVAILABLE AT THE ORIGINAL,
GOVERNMENT ISSUE PRICE
ONLY UNTIL JUNE 30, 1972

An Issue Boasting Many Excellent Features

The Liberia Proof Set offers several advantages. First of all, it is a limited issue. By limited issue we mean that the quantity of proof sets to be minted is strictly limited to the number of orders submitted by the deadline. Absolutely no surplus is produced... for after the quantity is minted for which orders have been received, the dies are destroyed.

And its investment record? Well, as a matter of information, the 1970 and 1971 Liberia Proof Sets, both issued originally at $15.00 per set, are now selling for approximately 50% more than the original issue figure. . . only a few months after appearing on the market. In fact, Paramount is now attempting to purchase them at a figure exceeding this issue price. This is a strong indication that this series has become firmly established in the minds of collectors. So there is every reason to believe that the forthcoming 1972 issue will prove to be an equally fine investment.

Add to this the fact that the proof sets from this nation are still in their infancy (the very first proof set issued by this country was in 1968!). Or that the Liberia Proof Set is struck by one of the world's most respected minting institutions—the United States Mint—and you can see that the 1972 Liberia proof set is certainly worth serious consideration.

And Many Other Advantages

Of course, there are other advantages boasted by this Proof Set. For example, since this set is struck by the U. S. Mint, these finely crafted coins meet the highest proof standards demanded by North American collectors. In addition, Liberia's coinage, from the Dollar to the One Cent piece, is very similar to that of the United States. And it has the very same exchange rate... one Liberian Dollar = $1.00 United States funds. And since 1972 marks only the 5th year of issue of this proof set, purchasers of this coin issue are getting in on the "ground floor" of this select world proof set series.

In addition to all of this, Liberia's coinage is also of historical importance. On the reverse of two of the Liberian coins, the one cent and the five cent pieces, is the profound symbol of her heritage—the Great Seal of Liberia, which bears the legend, "The Love of Liberty Brought Us Here." The winged dove bears the message of liberty to the continent of Africa, where Liberia was established in 1822 by freed slaves from the United States.

Your Order Must Be Sent In Promptly

In order to add this fine set to your collection, your order must be postmarked no later than June 30. Liberia, even though the oldest African democracy, is still a very new nation... with a very new proof set issue. Her 1972 proof set will certainly be a worthwhile addition to any collector or investor portfolio.

DEADLINE: JUNE 30, 1972

ORDER FORM NUM

Acceptance of orders is contingent upon the Mint's ability to meet the demand. Should the number of orders exceed the ability of the mint to produce these coins within the required production deadline, it may be necessary to effect a reduction or cancellation of some orders received. In the event of such reduction or cancellation, a full refund will be made on any undelivered sets.

America's Fastest Growing
Coin Company
wants to buy from you:

RARE COINS,
COLLECTIONS, ESTATES,
ACCUMULATIONS,
or any numismatic material from $100 to $100,000.

In conjunction with the fantastic growth of our national retail sales, we are placed in a position of having to buy at a constantly escalating rate. Our extremely large volume of 100% retail sales makes it possible for us to pay you absolute top dollar for your numismatic material. We have customers for your coins and will pay more to get them.

WHAT WE WANT TO BUY

We need a wide and varied assortment of numismatic items that most dealers just don't have the facilities to handle. We are not interested in "Cherry Picking" your collection, in other words we will not buy only the choice material from your collection and leave you holding the bag with what's left. We want and need everything, whether AG or proof, modern or obsolete. In short, if it's been worth your effort to save, we want it.

ADVANTAGES OF SELLING TO US

(1) You get far more for your entire collection when you sell to Riverside Coin Company. Why? We have the best possible location for retail sales; we are centrally located in heavy tourist traffic and only a stone's throw from Hemisfair Plaza, the still active site of World's Fair 1968. This means we pay more for the insignificant items that dealers cannot afford to advertise as we sell them direct to our tourist clientele. We sell the better material to eager collectors through national advertising.

(2) You get immediate cash payment in strict confidence.

(3) You get the full value from your collection when selling to Riverside. Many collectors sell unknowingly to wholesale dealers. We are living proof of this as we spend hundreds of thousands annually with these wholesale dealers. You will eliminate him and get 100% for yourself by selling to Riverside.

(4) You get a pleasant and enjoyable transaction. You'll like the Riverside way of doing business.

HOW TO SELL TO US

Selling to us is as easy as A-B-C. Thousands of collectors and dealers have done it. Here's all you do: Package your coins securely and mail them to us either insured or registered mail. Our offer in the form of a check goes out to you airmail the same day your shipment is received. Your coins are then held intact for 10 days while you consider our offer. If for some reason you do not accept our offer, your coins will be immediately returned to you postpaid.

LAST CALL FOR 1972 ANA AUCTION SALE CONSIGNMENTS

As you know, Paramount has been selected to conduct the 1972 ANA Auction Sale, to be held at the Jung Hotel in New Orleans, August 15-19. In an effort to continue the tradition of high quality that ANA Auction Sales have always enjoyed in the past, Paramount has been busy soliciting choice material for consignment to this sale. Our efforts have been rewarding. Some of the more outstanding lots that already been accepted are:

- * A Condition Census 1799 Large Cent
- * 1858/7 Flying Eagle Cent, Gem Unc.
- * Gem Proof 1866 Shield Nickel
- * A complete set (1873-1883) of Trade Dollars in Gem Unc., for proof.
- * No less than Forty pattern trade dollars, a number of which are unique or possibly unique.
- * 1854-D $3 gold piece
- * 1876 $3 gold piece
- * 1879 Gold Stella
- * 1795 Small Eagle $5 gold piece
- * 1877-C C Eagle, one of the finest known
- * 1907 Eagle, wire edge with periods
- * Newfoundland $2 gold set
- * Complete Canadian gold set
- * An outstanding selection of U.S. Currency
- * Many other choice consignments including U.S. types, foreign gold etc.

Due to limitations in the number of auction sessions we may hold, and because of catalogue deadlines, we cannot accept consignments much longer. However, there is still time for you to make your choice of rare material part of the 1972 ANA auction sale - if you act promptly. So contact John S. Queen, Vice President, immediately and discuss all the details with him.

The 1972 ANA auction will certainly be the highlight of what already appears to be one of numismatics finest years. Don't miss your chance to be a part of it.

(1) THE GOLDEN RULE OF GRADING IS: NO BULL MEANS NO BEEF. Between fair and AU these are all graded by Brown & Dunn. As for Unc. and proof—these are my standards:

UNCIRCULATED CHECKLIST: (A) Inspection under hard light with glass and not under soft whitewash light with "other side of the counter" vision. (B) No wear. (C) Mint frost full, not marred or faint in fields or on design. (D) No noticeable scratches, hairlines, spots or rim-dings. (E) No weak strikes excepting 1922-P 1c and 1921 Peace $1 which never come fully struck. (F) Normal coloration & other looks compared to other known Uncs. (G) No evidence of processing.

same coin. Unc. (E) Perfect centering on planchet. (F) Square edge like letter "L" and not "U" shaped edge. (G) Edge reads fully across coin thickness, around whole coin. (H) Thickness same around whole coin, not pinched together in places. (I) "Wire edge" is not a test for a proof. (J) Dies not rotated. (K) Proof field stays level at edge of design, like the waterline around a statue in a pond. No metal flow lines around, or shallows around, or metal lapping up around, stars, letters or design. (L) No evidence of polishing, processing or recoloring.

VARIETY COINS The revised red book, the Spadone variety book, and the Scott-Taxay Catalog have put classic American variety coins on collector want lists. WHERE ARE THE ADS LISTING THESE COINS? Answer: few dealers have a big enough stock to scrounge up enough variety coins to run in an ad. The dealers who do are big dealers whose wheeling & dealing leaves no time to pick 'em out. It took me a year on the food to find these for you. When will another ad offer them? BID NOT—TO WAIT IS TOO LATE. When they print the "Classic American Variety Coins" album, prices will climb the walls!

WE ARE PAYING "GEM" PRICES FOR GEM BU COINS

We have great confidence in the present coin market and we are showing this confidence by paying Top Dollar for Top Quality coins.

We do not need whizzed or processed coins which only appear to be BU (i.e. Barber Halves advertised at $79.50, Bust Halves at $32.50, etc.), but which in reality are no better than XF or possibly AU.

The first time that we ran this ad we received some of the worst "garbage" as BU that you can imagine. Please don't waste our time and yours unless your coins are Choice BU.

By the way, to command these prices, the early copper must be Brilliant, and not brown, Unc.

Mystic Medallion of The Zodiac

Coin and medallion designs have utilized a wide variety of themes and subjects over the years. In spite of the subject or the design itself, it is always the goal of the medallic sculptor to create a work of art, a lasting contribution to the one art form, which — above all others — is most familiar to more people than any other field of art.

One of the most unusual examples to be introduced on the numismatic scene is the Zodiac Lucky Number Medallion, recently announced by Van Brook of Lexington. The medal is certain to stir the imagination of anyone who sees it, and should be popular and well received by collectors, whether they are Zodiac devotees or not.

The obverse of the medal depicts the 12 signs of the Zodiac in their classical styles. Each symbol is rendered in extraordinarily fine detail, and one must have a good high-power magnifying glass to truly appreciate the intricate precision of the die engraving.

A modernistic four-point star divides the Zodiac into quadrants, each represented by its own "Access Code Symbol."

The reverse features the "Magic Squares" of Ancient Egypt, as translated by archeologists from stone carvings (2000 - 4000 B.C.). The "Access Code Symbols" are repeated on the reverse and around the perimeter are a series of astrological symbols representing the planets and their relative positions with one another.

There are many intriguing phenomena concerning the magic squares. Every row — horizontal, vertical, or diagonal — when added, totals 65. The sum of the four corner squares is the same as the sum of the four Access Squares.

An unusual but fairly simple formulae has been devised for the calculation of any individual's "daily lucky number" utilizing the Zodiac, the access codes, and the magic squares. A parchment folder explaining the procedure is supplied by the company along with each Zodiac Medallion.

Specimens are available at $3 each for an antique golden bronze medallion, and $5 each in antique nickel silver. Sterling silver Mint Proofs are priced at $12 and a complete set is $19. All prices include postage.

Medallion Will Honor FAA

The almost routine heroics of the dedicated men and women of the Federal Aviation Administration will be brought to nationwide attention by the minting of a special medallion. The "Guiding Hands" Commemorative honors the expert efficiency of the FAA's staff of 50,000 Air Traffic Controllers, Flight Service Specialists, Electronic Technicians, and career professionals.

The medals are 40 mm. diameter, slightly larger than a U. S. Silver Dollar, and will be struck in Sterling silver proofs, antique nickel silver and antique bronze. The Sterling issue will be limited to 25,000 of which the first 5,000 will be individually serial numbered. The graphics are simple, but the story of the FAA is complete.

The FAA medallions are being made available to collectors as well as FAA personnel, and will be issued about May 15, 1972. Orders may be placed in advance, at $12 for the Sterling silver proofs, $5 for the antique nickel silver, and $3 for the bronze. Complete Mint Sets are available at $19 for the set of three.

Further information may be obtained and medals may be ordered by writing to: Heritage Arts, Inc., P.O. Box 120, Lexington, Ky. 40501.

We are recommending:

The modern clad issue of U.S. Coins.

Now 15 coins in each dime and quarter clad series.
Very few clad coins were held back from circulation.
Some of the BU clad coins will prove to be surprisingly scarce.
Each series now includes 4 scarce Proof only issues.

There is only one way to obtain the very scarce "S" clad dimes and quarters and that is to break up the Proof sets. Proof sets minted each year: 1968-S only 3,041,509; 1969-S only 2,934,631; 1970-S only 2,632,810; 1971-S approx. 3,000,000.

It is estimated at this time that less than 10% of the proof sets have been broken to obtain single coins for collectors. This 10% figure would be less than 300,000 of each date available for collectors and investors.

For a comparison of mintages and value, listed are some recognized by key coins in the 10¢, 25¢, 50¢ series:

| Date       | Mintage | G-VG     | BU                |
|------------|---------|----------|-------------------|
| 1916-D 10¢ | 264,000 | $100.00 | $675.00 per coin |
| 1932-D 25¢ | 436,800 | 35.00    | 225.00 per coin   |
| 1932-S 25¢ | 408,300 | 35.00    | 95.00 per coin    |
| 1921 50¢   | 246,000 | 30.00    | 750.00 per coin   |
| 1921-D 50¢ | 208,300 | 50.00    | 975.00 per coin   |
| 1938-D 50¢ | 491,600 | 22.00    | 175.00 per coin   |

IMPORTANT — JULY 1

July 1 is important because on that date my new semi-annual Stock List of modern foreign coins is released. This stock list will be good for the remainder of 1972. Along with this list will be my usual monthly list, which contains new and recent issues, late arrivals, and items in short supply.

If you are now on my mailing list you will receive this when released. If not, and you collect foreign coins, you will find it of special interest, since it represents one of the best stocks of modern foreign coins in the world. Prices are reasonable, too. No charge, please write for it.

Dealers: Write on your letterhead for new 24 page semi-annual wholesale list, showing hundreds of coins per 10 and per 100 at prices which will give you a good profit. Available only to dealers.
